The Declaration of Independence is generally regarded as one of the most famous documents in the history of the world. On June 10, 1776, the Continental Congress appointed a committee, consisting of Thomas Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin, John Adams, Roger Sherman and Robert R. Livingston to draft a Declaration of Independence.

Jefferson wrote out a rough draft of the Declaration, which was carefully revised by the committee and presented to Congress for adoption. After some further slight revisions by that body, it was adopted on July 4, 1776, at Philadelphia.

The parchment with the original signatures was deposited with the Department of State when the government was organized in 1789.

The original Declaration of Independence was transferred from the Department of State by direction of the late President Warren G. Harding to the Library of Congress. The Declaration was moved from the Library of Congress in 1952 at the direction of Congress and transferred to the National Archives Building where it rests today.

THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

MADE BY THE ORIGINAL THIRTEEN STATES
IN CONGRESS AT PHILADELPHIA

UNANIMOUSLY ADOPTED JULY 4, 1776

When, in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume, among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature and of nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed, by their Creator, with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed, that whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, and institute new government, laying its foundation on such principles, and organizing its powers in such form as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that governments long established, should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shown that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same object, evinces a design to reduce them under absolute depotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such government, and to provide new guards for their future security. Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies, and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former systems of government. The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute tyranny over these States. To prove this, let facts be submitted to a candid world.

He has refused his assent to laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.

He has forbidden his governors to pass laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his assent should be obtained; and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.

He has refused to pass other laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people should relinquish the right of representation in the legislature, a right inestimable to them, and formidable to tyrants only.

He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their public records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.

He has dissolved representative houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people.

He has refused for a long time, after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected, whereby the legislative powers, incapable of annihilation, have returned to the people at large for their exercise; the State remaining, in the meantime, exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without, and convulsions within.

He has endeavored to prevent the population of these States; for that purpose obstructing the laws for naturalization of foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migrations hither; and raising the conditions of new appropriations of lands.

He has obstructed the administration of justice by refusing his assent to laws for establishing judiciary powers.

He has made judges dependent on his will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries.

He has erected a multitude of new offices, and sent hither swarms of officers to harass our people, and eat out their substance.

He has kept among us, in times of peace, standing armies, without the consent of our legislatures.

He has affected to render the military independent of and superior to the civil power.

He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation:

For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us:

For protecting them, by a mock trial, from punishment for any murders which they should commit on the inhabitants of these States:

For cutting off our trade with all parts of the world:

For imposing taxes on us without our consent:

For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury:

For transporting us beyond seas to be tried for pretended offenses:

For abolishing the free system of English laws in a neighboring province, establishing therein an arbitrary government, and enlarging its boundaries, so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these colonies:

For taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering fundamentally the forms of our governments:

For suspending our own legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.

He has abdicated government here, by declaring us out of his protection, and waging war against us.

He has plundered our seas, ravaged our coasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people.

He is, at this time, transporting large armies of foreign mercenaries to complete the works of death, desolation, and tyranny, already begun, with circumstances of cruelty and perfidy, scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the head of a civilized nation.

He has constrained our fellow citizens, taken captive on the high seas, to bear arms against their country, to become the executioners of their friends and brethren, or to fall themselves by their hands.

He has excited domestic insurrections amongst us, and has endeavored to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers, the merciless Indian savages, whose known rule of warfare is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes, and conditions.

In every stage of these oppressions we have petitioned for redress in the most humble terms: our repeated petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A prince whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people.

Nor have we been wanting in attentions to our British brethren. We have warned them, from time to time, of attempts by their legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them by the ties of our common kindred to disavow these usurpations, which would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They too have been deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity which denounces our separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, enemies in war, in peace friends.

We, therefore, the Representatives of the United States of America, in General Congress assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do in the name, and by authority of the good people of these Colonies, solemnly publish and declare, That these United Colonies, are, and of right ought to be, free and independent States; that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British crown, and that all political connexion between them and the State of Great Britain, is, and ought to be, totally dissolved; and that as free and independent States, they have full power to levy war, conclude peace, contract alliances, establish commerce, and to do all other acts and things which independent States, may of right do. And for the support of this declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honour.

The United States Constitution is the oldest federal constitution in existence. It was so well framed that it has served as the basis for this government for a century and a half. Only once has it been seriously endangered, this being during the Civil War. Many of its principles have been adopted by other countries.

The Constitution was the outgrowth of a convention of delegates from the different states that met in Philadelphia in May, 1787, Rhode Island not being represented. George Washington presided over the convention, which lasted from May to September.

The Constitution was then submitted to the then existing states for ratification, with a provision that it should become effective when ratified by nine states. New Hampshire was the ninth state to ratify, June 21, 1788, and the Constitution went into effect in 1789.

The states ratified the Constitution in the following order: Delaware, Dec. 7; Pennsylvania, Dec. 12, and New Jersey, Dec. 18, 1787; Georgia, Jan. 2; Connecticut, Jan. 9; Massachusetts, Feb. 6; Maryland, Apr. 28; South Carolina, May 23; New Hampshire, June 21; Virginia, June 26, and New York, July 26, 1788; North Carolina, Nov. 21, 1789, and Rhode Island, May 29, 1790.

CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

THE CONSTITUTION

Preamble.—WE THE PEOPLE of the United States, in Order to form a more perfect Union, establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common defence, promote the general Welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America.

ARTICLE I.

SECTION 1.

Legislative powers vested in Congress.—All legislative Powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives.

SECTION 2.

Composition of the House of Representatives.—1. The House of Representatives shall be composed of Members chosen every second Year by the People of the several States, and the Electors in each State shall have the Qualifications requisite for Electors of the most numerous Branch of the State Legislature.

Qualifications of Representatives.—2. No Person shall be a Representative who shall not have attained to the Age of twenty-five Years, and been seven Years a Citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an Inhabitant of that State in which he shall be chosen.

Apportionment of Representatives and direct taxes—census.—*3. [Representatives and direct Taxes shall be apportioned among the several States which may be included within this Union, according to their respective Numbers, which shall be determined by adding to the whole Number of free Persons, including those bound to Service for a term of Years and excluding Indians not taxed, three fifths of all other persons.] The actual Enumeration shall be made within three Years after the first Meeting of the Congress of the United States, and within every subsequent Term of ten Years, in such

* The clause included in brackets is amended by the fourteenth amendment, second section.

Manner as they shall by Law direct. The Number of Representatives shall not exceed one for every thirty thousand, but each State shall have at Least one Representative; and until such enumeration shall be made, the State of New Hampshire shall be entitled to chuse three, Massachusetts eight, Rhode-Island and Providence Plantations one, Connecticut five, New York six, New Jersey four, Pennsylvania eight, Delaware one, Maryland six, Virginia ten, North Carolina five, South Carolina five, and Georgia three.

Filling of vacancies in representation.—4. When vacancies happen in the Representation from any State, the Executive Authority thereof shall issue Writs of Election to fill such Vacancies.

Selection of officers; power of impeachment.—5. The House of Representatives shall chuse their Speaker and other Officers; and shall have the sole Power of Impeachment.

*SECTION 3.

The Senate.—[1. The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two Senators from each State, chosen by the Legislature thereof, for six Years; and each Senator shall have one Vote.]

Classification of Senators; filling of vacancies.—2. Immediately after they shall be assembled in Consequence of the first Election, they shall be divided as equally as may be into three Classes. The Seats of the Senators of the first Class shall be vacated at the Expiration of the second Year, of the second Class at the Expiration of the fourth Year, and of the third Class at the Expiration of the sixth Year, so that one-third may be chosen every second Year; and if Vacancies happen by Resignation, or otherwise, during the Recess of the Legislature of any State, the Executive thereof may make temporary Appointments [until the next Meeting of the Legislature, which shall then fill such Vacancies.]

* The first paragraph of section three of Article I of the Constitution of the United States, and so much of paragraph two of the same section as relates to filling vacancies are amended by the seventeenth amendment to the Constitution.

ARTICLE I—Continued.

Qualification of Senators.—3. No person shall be a Senator who shall not have attained to the Age of thirty Years, and been nine Years a Citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an Inhabitant of that State for which he shall be chosen.

Vice President to be President of Senate.—4. The Vice President of the United States shall be President of the Senate, but shall have no Vote, unless they be equally divided.

Selection of Senate Officers; President pro tempore.—5. The Senate, shall chuse their other Officers, and also a President pro tempore, in the absence of the Vice-President, or when he shall exercise the Office of President of the United States.

Senate to try impeachment.—6. The Senate shall have the sole Power to try all Impeachments. When sitting for that Purpose, they shall be on Oath or Affirmation. When the President of the United States is tried, the Chief Justice shall preside: And no Person shall be convicted without the Concurrence of two thirds of the Members present.

Judgment in case of impeachment.—7. Judgment in Cases of Impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from Office, and disqualification to hold and enjoy any Office of honor, Trust, or Profit under the United States: but the Party convicted shall nevertheless be liable and subject to Indictment, Trial, Judgment and Punishment, according to Law.

SECTION 4.

Control of congressional elections.—1. The Times, Places and Manner of holding Elections for Senators and Representatives, shall be prescribed in each State by the Legislature thereof; but the Congress may at any time by Law make or alter such Regulations, except as to the Places of chusing Senators.

Time for assembling of Congress.—2. The Congress shall assemble at least once in every Year, and such Meeting shall be on the first Monday in December, unless they shall by Law appoint a different day.

* Amended by Article XX, section 2, of the amendments to the Constitution.

ARTICLE I—Continued.

SECTION 5.

Each House to be the judge of the election and qualifications of its members; regulations as to quorum.—1. Each House shall be the Judge of the Elections, Returns and Qualifications of its own Members, and a Majority of each shall constitute a Quorum to do Business; but a smaller Number may adjourn from day to day, and may be authorized to compel the Attendance of absent Members, in such Manner, and under such Penalties as each House may provide.

Each House to determine its own rules.—2. Each House may determine the Rules of its Proceedings, punish its Members for disorderly Behavior, and, with the Concurrence of two thirds, expel a Member.

Journals and yeas and nays.—3. Each House shall keep a Journal of its Proceedings, and from time to time publish the same, excepting such Parts as may in their judgment require Secrecy; and the Yeas and Nays of the Members of either House on any question shall, at the Desire of one fifth of those Present, be entered on the Journal.

Adjournment.—4. Neither House, during the Session of Congress shall, without the Consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other Place than that in which the two Houses shall be sitting.

SECTION 6.

Compensation and privileges of Members of Congress.—1. The Senators and Representatives shall receive a Compensation for their Services, to be ascertained by Law, and paid out of the Treasury of the United States. They shall in all Cases, except Treason, Felony and Breach of the Peace, be privileged from Arrest during their Attendance at the Session of their respective Houses, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any Speech or Debate in either House, they shall not be questioned in any other place.

Incompatible offices; exclusions.—2. No Senator or Representative shall, during the Time for which he was elected, be appointed to any civil Office under the Authority of the United States, which shall have been created, or the Emoluments whereof shall have been encreased during such time; and no Person holding any Office under the United States, shall be a Member of either House during his continuance in Office.

SECTION 7.

Revenue bills to originate in House.—1. All Bills for raising Revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives; but the Senate may propose or concur with Amendments as on other Bills.

Manner of passing bills; veto power of President.—2. Every Bill which shall have passed the House of Representatives and the Senate, shall before it becomes a Law, be presented to the President of the United States; If he approve he shall sign it, but if not he shall return it, with his Objections to that House in which it shall have originated, who shall enter the Objections at large on their Journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If after such Reconsideration two thirds of that House shall agree to pass the Bill, it shall be sent, together with the Objections, to the other House, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by two thirds of that House, it shall become a Law. But in all such Cases the Votes of both Houses shall be determined by Yeas and Nays, and the Names of the Persons voting for and against the Bill shall be entered on the Journal of each House respectively. If any Bill shall not be returned by the President within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the Same shall be a Law, in like Manner as if he had signed it, unless the Congress by their Adjournment prevent its Return, in which Case it shall not be a Law.

Concurrent orders or resolutions, to be passed by President.—3. Every Order, Resolution, or Vote to which the Concurrence of the Senate and House of Representatives may be necessary (except on a question of adjournment) shall be presented to the President of the United States; and before the Same shall take Effect, shall be approved by him, or being disapproved by him, shall be repassed by two thirds of the Senate and House of Representatives, according to the Rules and Limitations prescribed in the Case of a Bill.

ARTICLE I—Continued.

SECTION 8.

General powers of Congress.

The Congress shall have Power.—1. To lay and collect Taxes, Duties, Imposts and Excises, to pay the Debts and provide for the common Defence and general Welfare of the United States; but all Duties, Imposts and Excises shall be uniform throughout the United States.

Borrowing of money.—2. To borrow money on the credit of the United States.

Regulation of commerce.—3. To regulate Commerce with foreign Nations, and among the several States, and with the Indian tribes.

Naturalization and bankruptcy.—4. To establish an uniform Rule of Naturalization, and uniform Laws on the subject of Bankruptcies throughout the United States.

Money, weights and measures.—5. To coin Money, regulate the Value thereof, and of foreign Coin, and fix the Standard of Weights and Measures.

Counterfeiting.—6. To provide for the Punishment of counterfeiting the Securities and current Coin of the United States.

Post offices.—7. To establish Post Offices and post roads.

Patents and copyrights.—8. To promote the Progress of Science and useful Arts, by securing for limited Times to Authors and Inventors the exclusive Right to their respective Writings and Discoveries.

Inferior courts.—9. To constitute Tribunals inferior to the supreme Court.

Piracies and felonies.—10. To define and punish Piracies and Felonies committed on the high Seas, and Offenses against the Law of Nations.

War; marque and reprisal.—11. To declare war, grant Letters of Marque and Reprisal, and make Rules concerning Captures on Land and Water.

* By Article XVI of the amendments to the Constitution, Congress is given the power to lay and collect taxes on incomes.

ARTICLE I—Continued.

Armies.—12. To raise and support Armies, but no Appropriation of Money to that Use shall be for a longer Term than two Years.

Navy.—13. To provide and maintain a Navy.

Land and naval forces.—14. To make Rules for the Government and Regulation of the land and naval Forces.

Calling out militia.—15. To provide for calling forth the Militia to execute the Laws of the Union, suppress Insurrections and repel Invasions.

Organizing, arming and disciplining militia.—16. To provide for organizing, arming, and disciplining the Militia, and for governing such Part of them as may be employed in the Service of the United States, reserving to the States, respectively, the Appointment of the Officers, and the Authority of training the Militia according to the discipline prescribed by Congress.

Exclusive legislation over District of Columbia.—17. To exercise exclusive Legislation in all Cases whatsoever, over such District (not exceeding ten Miles square) as may, by Cession of particular States, and the acceptance of Congress, become the Seat of the Government of the United States, and to exercise like Authority over all Places purchased by the Consent of the Legislature of the State in which the Same shall be, for the Erection of Forts, Magazines, Arsenals, dock-Yards, and other needful Buildings;—and

To enact laws necessary to enforce Constitution.—18. To make all Laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into Execution the foregoing Powers, and all other Powers vested by this Constitution in the Government of the United States, or in any department or Officer thereof.

SECTION 9.

Migration or importation of certain persons not to be prohibited before 1808.—1. The Migration or Importation of such Persons as any of the States now existing shall think proper to admit shall not be prohibited by the Congress prior to the Year one thousand eight hundred and eight, but a tax or duty may be imposed on such Importation, not exceeding ten dollars for each Person.

Writ of habeas corpus not to be suspended; exception.—2. The privilege of the Writ of Habeas Corpus shall not be suspended, unless when in Cases of Rebellion or Invasion the public Safety may require it.

Bills of attainder and ex post facto laws prohibited.—3. No Bill of Attainder or ex post facto Law shall be passed.

Capitation and other direct taxes.—*4. No capitation, or other direct tax shall be laid, unless in Proportion to the Census of Enumeration herein before directed to be taken.

Exports not to be taxed.—5. No Tax or Duty shall be laid on Article exported from any State.

No preference to be given to ports of any State; interstate shipping.—6. No Preference shall be given by any Regulation of Commerce or Revenue to the Ports of one State over those of another; nor shall Vessels bound to, or from, one State, be obliged to enter, clear, or pay Duties in another.

Money, how drawn from treasury; financial statements to be published.—7. No Money shall be drawn from the Treasury, but in Consequence of Appropriations made by Law; and a regular Statement and Account of the Receipts and Expenditures of all public Money shall be published from time to time.

Titles of nobility not to be granted; acceptance by government officers of favors from foreign powers.—8. No Title of Nobility shall be granted by the United States: And no Person holding any office of Profit or Trust under them, shall without the Consent of the Congress, accept of any present, Emolument, Office, or Title, of any kind whatever, from any King, Prince, or foreign State.

SECTION 10.

Limitations of the powers of the several States.—1. No State shall enter into any Treaty, Alliance, or Confederation; grant Letters of Marque and Reprisal; coin Money; emit Bills of Credit; make any Thing but gold and silver Coin a Tender in Payment of Debts; pass any Bill of Attainder ex post facto Law, or Law impairing the Obligation of Contracts or grant any Title of Nobility.

* See sixteenth amendment.

State imposts and duties.—2. No State shall, without the Consent of the Congress, lay any Imposts or Duties on Imports or Exports, except what may be absolutely necessary for executing its inspection Laws; and the net Produce of all Duties and Imposts, laid by any State on Imports or Exports, shall be for the Use of the Treasury of the United States; and all such Laws shall be subject to the Revision and Control of the Congress.

Further restrictions on powers of State.—3. No State shall, without the consent of Congress, lay any duty of Tonnage, keep Troops, or Ships of War in time of Peace, enter into any Agreement or Compact with another State, or with a foreign Power, or engage in War, unless actually invaded, or in such imminent Danger as will not admit of delay.

ARTICLE II.

SECTION 1.

The President; the executive power.—1. The executive Power shall be vested in a President of the United States of America. He shall hold his Office during the Term of four Years, and, together with the Vice-President, chosen for the same Term, be elected, as follows:

Appointment and qualifications of presidential electors.—2. Each State shall appoint, in such Manner as the Legislature thereof may direct, a Number of Electors, equal to the whole Number of Senators and Representatives to which the State may be entitled in the Congress; but no Senator or Representative or Person holding an Office of Trust or Profit under the United States, shall be appointed an Elector.

Original method of electing the President and Vice-President.—*[The Electors shall meet in their respective States, and vote by Ballot for two persons, of whom one at least shall not be an Inhabitant of the same State with themselves. And they shall make a List of all the Persons voted for, and of the Number of Votes for each; which List they shall sign and certify, and transmit sealed to the Seat of the Government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate. The President of the Senate shall, in the Presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the Certificates, and the Votes shall then be counted. The Person having the greatest Number of Votes shall be the President, if such Number be a Majority of the whole Number of Electors appointed; and if there be more than one who have such Majority, and have an equal Number of Votes, then the House of Representatives shall immediately chuse by Ballot one of them for President; and if no Person have a Majority, then from the five highest on the list the said House shall in like Manner chuse the President. But in chusing the President, the Votes shall be taken by States, the Representation from each State having one Vote; A quorum for this Purpose shall consist of a Member or Members from two-thirds of the States, and a Majority of all the States shall be necessary to a Choice. In every case, after the Choice of the President, the Person having the greatest Number of Votes of the Electors shall be the Vice-President. But if there should remain two or more who have equal Votes, the Senate shall chuse from them by Ballot the Vice-President.]

Congress may determine time of choosing electors and day for casting their votes.—3. The Congress may determine the Time of chusing the Electors, and the Day on which they shall give their Votes; which Day shall be the same throughout the United States.

*Qualifications for the office of President.—4. No person except a natural born Citizen, or a Citizen of the United States, at the time of the Adoption of this Constitution, shall be eligible to the Office of President; neither shall any Person be eligible to that office who shall not have attained to the Age of thirty-five Years, and been fourteen Years a Resident within the United States.

†Filling vacancy in the office of President.—5. In Case of the Removal of the President from Office, or of his Death, Resignation, or Inability to discharge the Powers and Duties of the said Office, the same shall devolve on the Vice-President, and the Congress may by Law provide for the Case of Removal, Death, Resignation or Inability, both of the President and Vice-President, declaring what Officer shall then act as President, and such Officer shall act accordingly, until the Disability be removed, or a President shall be elected.

Compensation of the President.—6. The President shall, at stated Times, receive for his Services, a Compensation, which shall neither be encreased nor diminished during the Period for which he shall have been elected, and he shall not receive within that Period any other Emolument from the United States, or any of them.

Oath to be taken by the President.—7. Before he enter on the Execution of his Office, he shall take the following Oath or Affirmation:—"I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the Office of President of the United States, and will to the best of my Ability, preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States."

SECTION 2.

The President to be commander-in-chief of army and navy and head of executive department; may grant reprieves and pardons.—1. The President shall be Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States, and of the Militia of the several States, when called into the actual Service of the United States; he may require the Opinion, in writing, of the principal Officer in each of the executive Departments, upon any subject relating to the Duties of their respective Offices, and he shall have Power to grant Reprieves and Pardons for Offenses against the United States, except in Cases of Impeachment.

President may, with concurrence of Senate, make treaties, appoint ambassadors, etc.; appointment of inferior officers, authority of Congress over.—2. He shall have Power, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Senate to make Treaties, provided two-thirds of the Senators present concur; and he shall nominate, and by and with the Advice and Consent of the Senate, shall appoint Ambassadors, other public Ministers and Consuls, Judges of the Supreme Court, and all other Officers of the United States, whose Appointments are not herein otherwise provided for, and which shall be established by Law; but the Congress may by Law vest the Appointment of such inferior Officers, as they think proper, in the President alone, in the Courts of Law, or in the Heads of Departments.

President may fill vacancies in office during recess of Senate.—3. The President shall have Power to fill all Vacancies that may happen during the Recess of the Senate, by granting Commissions which shall expire at the End of their next Session.

SECTION 3.

President to give advice to Congress; may convene or adjourn it on certain occasions; to receive ambassadors, etc.; have laws executed and commission all officers.—He shall from time to time give to the Congress Information of the State of the Union, and recommend to their Consideration such Measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient; he may, on extraordinary Occasions, convene both Houses, or either of them, and in Case of Disagreement between them, with Respect to the Time of Adjournment, he may adjourn them to such Time as he shall think proper; he shall receive Ambassadors and other public Ministers; he shall take Care that the Laws be faithfully executed, and shall Commission all the Officers of the United States.

SECTION 4.

All civil officers removable by impeachment.—1. The President, Vice-President and all civil Officers of the United States, shall be removed from Office on Impeachment for, and Conviction of, Treason, Bribery, or other high crimes and Misdemeanors.

ARTICLE III.

SECTION 1.

Judicial power; how vested; term of office and compensation of judges.—The judicial Power of the United States, shall be vested in one supreme Court, and in such inferior Courts as the Congress may from time to time ordain and establish. The Judges, both of the supreme and inferior Courts, shall hold their offices during good Behaviour, and shall, at stated Times, receive for their Services a Compensation which shall not be diminished during their Continuance in office.

SECTION 2.

Jurisdiction of Federal courts.—The judicial Power shall extend to all Cases, in Law and Equity, arising under this Constitution, the Laws of the United States, and Treaties made, or which shall be made, under their Authority;—to all Cases affecting Ambassadors, other public Ministers and consuls;—to all Cases of Admiralty and maritime Jurisdiction;—to Controversies to which the United States shall be a Party;—to Controversies between two or more States;—between a State and Citizens of another State;—between Citizens of different States; between Citizens of the same States claiming Lands under Grants of different States, and between a State, or the Citizens thereof, and foreign States, Citizens or Subjects.

* This section is abridged by Article XI of the amendments.

Original and appellate jurisdiction of Supreme Court.—2. In all cases affecting Ambassadors, other public Ministers and Consuls, and those in which a State shall be Party, the Supreme Court shall have original Jurisdiction. In all the other Cases before mentioned, the Supreme Court shall have appellate Jurisdiction, both as to Law and Fact, with such Exceptions, and under such Regulations as the Congress shall make.

Trial of all crimes, except impeachment, to be by jury.—3. The trial of all Crimes, except in Cases of Impeachment, shall be by Jury; and such Trial shall be held in the State where the said Crimes shall have been committed; but when not committed within any State, the trial shall be at such Place or Places as the Congress may by Law have directed.

Treason defined; conviction of.—1. Treason against the United States, shall consist only in levying War against them, or, in adhering to their Enemies, giving them Aid and Comfort. No Person shall be convicted of Treason unless on the Testimony of two Witnesses to the same overt Act, or on Confession in open Court.

Congress to declare punishment for treason; proviso.—2. The Congress shall have power to declare the Punishment of Treason, but no Attainder of Treason shall work Corruption of Blood, or Forfeiture except during the Life of the Person attained.

ARTICLE IV.

SECTION 1.

Each State to give full faith and credit to the public acts and records of other States.—Full Faith and Credit shall be given in each State to the public Acts, Records, and judicial Proceedings of every other State. And the Congress may by general Laws prescribe the Manner in which such Acts, Records and Proceedings shall be proved, and the Effect thereof.

SECTION 2.

Privileges of citizens.—1. Citizens of each State shall be entitled to all Privileges and Immunities of Citizens in the several States.

Extradition between the several States.—2. A Person charged in any State with Treason, Felony, or other Crime, who shall flee from Justice, and be found in another State, shall on demand of the executive Authority of the State from which he fled, be delivered up, to be removed to the State having Jurisdiction of the Crime.

Persons held to labor or services in one State, fleeing to another, to be returned.—3. No Person held to Serve or Labour in one State, under the Laws thereof, escaping into another, shall, in Consequence of any Law or Regulation therein, be discharged from such Service or Labour, but shall be delivered up on Claim of the Party to whom such Service or Labour may be due.

SECTION 3.

New States.—1. New States may be admitted by the Congress into this Union; but no new State shall be formed or erected within the Jurisdiction of any other State; nor any State be formed by Junction of two or more States, or parts of States, without the Consent of the Legislatures of the States concerned as well as of the Congress.

Regulations concerning territory.—2. The Congress shall have Power to dispose of and make all needful Rules and Regulations respecting the Territory or other Property belonging to the United States; and nothing in this Constitution shall be so construed as to Prejudice any Claims of the United States, or of any particular State.

SECTION 4.

Republican form of government and protection guaranteed the several States.—1. The United States shall guarantee to every State in this Union a Republican Form of Government, and shall protect each of them against Invasion; and on Application of the Legislature, or of the Executive (when the Legislature cannot be convened) against domestic violence.

ARTICLE V.

Ways in which the Constitution can be amended.—The Congress, whenever two-thirds of both Houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose Amendments to this Constitution, or, on the Application of the Legislatures of two-thirds of the several States, shall call a Convention for proposing Amendments, which, in either Case, shall be valid to all Intents and Purposes, as part of this Constitution, when ratified by the Legislature of three-fourths of the several States, or by Conventions in three-fourths thereof, as the one or the other Mode of Ratification may be proposed by the Congress; Provided that no Amendment which may be made prior to the year One thousand eight hun-

AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES

The following amendments from articles I to X inclusive were proposed at the first session of the first Congress of the United States, which was begun and held at the city of New York on the 4th day of March, 1789, and were adopted by the requisite number of states, as follows: New Jersey, Nov. 20, 1789; Maryland, Dec. 19, 1789; North Carolina, Dec. 22, 1789; South Carolina, Jan. 19, 1790; New Hampshire, Jan. 25, 1790; Delaware, Jan. 28, 1790; Pennsylvania, March 10, 1790; New York, March 27, 1790; Rhode Island, June 15, 1790; Vermont, Nov. 3, 1791, and Virginia, Dec. 15, 1791.

The following preamble and resolution preceded the original proposition of the amendments, and as they have been supposed by a high equity judge to have an important bearing on the construction of those amendments, they are here inserted. They will be found in the journals of the first session of the first congress.

CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES

Begun and held at the city of New York, on Wednesday, the 4th day of March, 1789.

The conventions of a number of the states having, at the time of their adopting the Constitution, expressed a desire, in order to prevent misconstruction or abuse of its powers, that further declaratory and restrictive clauses should be added, and as extending the ground of public confidence in the government will best insure the beneficent ends of its institution:

Resolved, By the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in congress assembled, two-thirds of both houses concurring, that the following articles be proposed to the legislature of the several states, as amendments to the constitution of the United States; all or any of which articles, when ratified by three-fourths of the said legislatures, to be valid to all intents and purposes, as part of the said constitution, namely:

ARTICLE I.

Freedom of religion, of speech, of the press, and right of petition.—Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances.

ARTICLE II.

Right of people to bear arms not to be infringed.—A well regulated Militia, being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear Arms, shall not be infringed.

ARTICLE III.

Quartering of troops.—No Soldier shall, in time of peace be quartered in any house, without the consent of the Owner, nor in time of war, but in a manner to be prescribed by law.

ARTICLE IV.

Persons and houses to be secure from unreasonable searches and seizures.—The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no Warrants shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by Oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized.

ARTICLE V.

Trials for crimes; just compensation for private property taken for public use.—No person shall be held to answer for a capital, or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a

Grand Jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the Militia, when in actual service in time of War or public danger; nor shall any person be subject for the same offence to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself, nor be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public use, without just compensation.

ARTICLE VI.

Civil rights in trials for crime enumerated.—In all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury of the State and district wherein the crime shall have been committed, which district shall have been previously ascertained by law, and to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation; to be confronted with the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor, and to have the Assistance of Counsel for his defence.

ARTICLE VII.

Civil rights in civil suits.—In suits at common law, where the value in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars, the right of trial by jury shall be preserved, and no fact tried in a jury, shall be otherwise re-examined in any Court of the United States, than according to the rules of the common law.

ARTICLE VIII.

Excessive bail, fines and punishments prohibited.—Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel and unusual punishments inflicted.

ARTICLE IX.

Reserved rights of people.—The enumeration in the Constitution, of certain rights, shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people.

ARTICLE X.

Powers not delegated, reserved to States and people respectively.—The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people.

Judicial power of United States not to extend to suits against a State.—The Judicial power of the United States shall not be construed to extend to any suit in law or equity, commenced or prosecuted against one of the United States by Citizens of another State, or by Citizens or Subjects of any Foreign State.

[The twelfth amendment, which follows, was proposed to the legislatures of the several states by the eighth Congress on December 12, 1803, and was declared in force September 25, 1804.]

ARTICLE XII.

Present mode of electing President and Vice-President by electors.—

The Electors shall meet in their respective states and vote by ballot for President and Vice-President, one of whom, at least, shall not be an inhabitant of the same state with themselves; they shall name in their ballots the person voted for as President, and in distinct ballots the person voted for as Vice-President, and they shall make distinct lists of all persons voted for as President, and of all persons voted for as Vice-President, and of the number of votes for each, which lists they shall sign and certify, and transmit sealed to the seat of the government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate;—The President of the Senate shall, in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the certificates and the votes shall then be counted;—The person having the greatest number of votes for President, shall be the President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed; and if no person have such majority, then from the persons having the highest numbers not exceeding three on the list of those voted for as President, the House of Representatives shall choose immediately, by ballot, the President. But in choosing the President, the votes shall be taken by states, the representation from each State having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the states, and a majority of all the states shall be necessary to a choice. And if the House of Representatives shall not choose a President whenever the right of choice shall devolve upon them, before the fourth day of March next following, then the Vice-President shall act as President, as in the case of the death or other constitutional disability of the President. The person having the greatest number of votes as Vice-President, shall be the Vice-President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed, and if no person have a majority, then from the two highest numbers on the list, the Senate shall choose the Vice-President; a quorum for the purpose shall consist of two-thirds of the whole number of Senators and a majority of the whole number shall be necessary to a choice. But no person constitutionally ineligible to the office of President shall be eligible to that of Vice-President of the United States.

[The thirteenth amendment, which follows, was proposed to the legislatures of the several states by the thirty-eighth Congress on February 1, 1865, and was declared in force December 18, 1865.]

ARTICLE XIII.

SECTION 1.

Slavery prohibited.—Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the United States, or any place subject to their jurisdiction.

SECTION 2.

Congress given power to enforce this article.—Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

[The fourteenth amendment, which follows, was proposed to the legislatures of the several states by the thirty-ninth Congress on June 16, 1866, and was declared in force July 28, 1868.]

ARTICLE XIV.

SECTION 1.

Citizenship defined; privileges of citizens.—All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

SECTION 2.

Apportionment of Representatives.—Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State, excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice-President of the United States, Representatives in Congress, the Executive and Judicial officers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State, being twenty-one years of age, and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged, except for participation in rebellion, or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

SECTION 3.

Disqualification for office; removal of disability.—No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice-President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States, or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath, as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

SECTION 4.

Public debt not to be questioned; payment of debts and claims incurred in aid of rebellion forbidden.—The validity of the public debt of the United States, authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims shall be held illegal and void.

SECTION 5.

Congress given power to enforce this article.—The Congress shall have power to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this article.

[The fifteenth amendment, which follows, was proposed to the legislatures of the several states by the fortieth Congress on February 27, 1869, and was declared in force March 30, 1870.]

ARTICLE XV.

SECTION 1.

Right of certain citizens to vote established.—The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State, on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude.

SECTION 2.

Congress given power to enforce this article.—The Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

[The sixteenth amendment, which follows, was proposed to the legislature of the several states by the sixty-first Congress on July 12, 1909, and was declared in force February 25, 1913.]

ARTICLE XVI.

Taxes on incomes; Congress given power to lay and collect.—The Congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes on incomes, from whatever source derived, without apportionment among the several States, and without regard to any census or enumeration.

[The seventeenth amendment, which follows, was proposed to the legislatures of the several states by the sixty-second Congress on May 16, 1912, and was declared in force May 31, 1913.]

ARTICLE XVII.

Election of United States Senators; filling of vacancies; qualification of electors.—1. The Senate of the United States will be composed of two Senators from each State, elected by the people thereof, for six years; and each Senator shall have one vote. The electors in each State shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the State legislatures.

2. When vacancies happen in the representation of any State in the Senate, the executive authority of such State shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies: Provided, that the legislature of any State may empower the executive thereof to make temporary appointment until the people fill the vacancies by election as the legislature may direct.

3. This amendment shall not be so construed as to affect the election or term of any Senator chosen before it becomes valid as part of the Constitution.

[The eighteenth amendment, which follows, was proposed to the legislatures of the several states by the sixty-fifth Congress, and was declared on January 29, 1919, as going into full force and effect on January 16, 1920.]

ARTICLE XVIII.

Manufacture, sale or transportation of intoxicating liquors, for beverage purposes, prohibited.—1. After one year from the ratification of this article the manufacture, sale, or transportation of intoxicating liquors within, the importation thereof into, or the exportation thereof from the United States and all territory subject to the jurisdiction thereof for beverage purposes is hereby prohibited.

Congress and the several States given concurrent power to pass appropriate legislation to enforce this article.—2. The Congress and the several States shall have concurrent power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

Provisions of article to become operative, when adopted by three-fourths of the State.—3. This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the Constitution by the legislatures of the several States, as provided in the Constitution within seven years from the date of the submission hereof to the States by the Congress.

[The nineteenth amendment, which follows, was proposed to the legislatures of the several states by the sixty-sixth Congress on May 19, 1919, and declared in force August 26, 1920.]

ARTICLE XIX.

The right of citizens to vote shall not be denied because of sex.—The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of sex.

Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

[The twentieth amendment, which follows, was proposed to the legislatures of the states by the seventy-second Congress, Senate Joint Res. 14, passed by the House of Representatives on March 1, 1932; the Senate March 2, 1932; signed by the Speaker of the House March 2, 1932, by the Vice-President of the U. S. and the President of the Senate March 3, 1932. Ratification by the thirty-sixth state occurred January 23, 1933. Sections 1 and 2 of the amendment became effective October 15, 1933.]

ARTICLE XX.SECTION 1.

Terms of President, Vice-President, Senators and Representatives.—The terms of the President and Vice-President shall end at noon on the 20th day of January, and the terms of Senators and Representatives at noon on the 3d day of January, of the years in which such terms

* Repealed by Article XXI, effective December 5, 1933.

would have ended if this article had not been ratified; and the terms of their successors shall then begin.

SECTION 2.

Time of assembling Congress.—The Congress shall assemble at least once in every year, and such meeting shall begin at noon on the 3d day of January, unless they shall by law appoint a different day.

SECTION 3.

Filling vacancy in office of President.—If, at the time fixed for the beginning of the term of the President, the President elect shall have died, the Vice-President elect shall become President. If a President shall not have been chosen before the time fixed for the beginning of his term, or if the President elect shall have failed to qualify, then the Vice-President elect shall act as President until a President shall have qualified; and the Congress may by law provide for the case wherein neither a President elect nor a Vice-President elect shall have qualified, declaring who shall then act as President, or the manner in which one who is to act shall be selected, and such person shall act accordingly until a President or Vice-President shall have qualified.

SECTION 4.

Power of Congress in Presidential succession.—The Congress may by law provide for the case of the death of any of the persons from whom the House of Representatives may choose a President whenever the right of choice shall have devolved upon them, and for the case of the death of any of the persons from whom the Senate may choose a Vice-President whenever the right of choice shall have devolved upon them.

SECTION 5.

Time of taking effect.—Sections 1 and 2 shall take effect on the 15th day of October following the ratification of this article.

SECTION 6.

Ratification.—This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the Constitution by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several States within seven years from the date of its submission.

[The twenty-first amendment, which follows, was proposed by the seventy-second Congress, second session beginning December 5, 1932. Senate Joint Resolution 211, passed February 20, 1933, provided for ratification by conventions in three-fourths of the States. The amendment became effective with ratification by Utah, the thirty-sixth state, on December 5, 1933.]

ARTICLE XXI.

SECTION 1.

Repeal of Prohibition Amendment.—The eighteenth article of amendment to the Constitution of the United States is hereby repealed.

SECTION 2.

Transportation of intoxicating Liquors.—The transportation or importation into any State, Territory, or possession of the United States for delivery or use therein of intoxicating liquors, in violation of the laws thereof, is hereby prohibited.

SECTION 3.

Ratification.—This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the Constitution by conventions in the several States, as provided in the Constitution, within seven years from the date of the submission hereof to the States by the Congress.

[The twenty-second amendment, which follows, was proposed by the eightieth Congress, first session beginning January 3, 1947. Joint Resolution provided for ratification by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several states. The amendment became effective with ratification by Minnesota, the thirty-sixth state, on February 27, 1951.]

ARTICLE XXII.

SECTION 1.

Term of the office of President.—No person shall be elected to the office of the President more than twice, and no person who has held the office of President, or acted as President, for more than two years of a term to which some other person was elected President shall be elected to the office of the President more than once. But this Article shall not apply to any person holding the office of President when this Article was proposed by the Congress, and shall not prevent any person who may be holding the office of President, or acting as President, during the term within which this Article becomes operative from holding the office of President or acting as President during the remainder of such term.

SECTION 2.

Ratification.—This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the Constitution by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several States within seven years from the date of its submission to the States by the Congress.

[The twenty-third amendment which follows, was proposed by the eighty-sixth Congress, second session beginning January 6, 1960. Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the United States granting representation in the electoral college to the District of Columbia, and provided for ratification by the legislature of three-fourths of the several states within seven years from the date of its submission by the Congress. The amendment became effective with ratification by Kansas, on April 3, 1961.]

ARTICLE XXIII.

SECTION 1.

Granting representation in the electoral college to the District of Columbia.—The District constituting the seat of Government of the United States shall appoint in such manner as the Congress may direct:

“A number of electors of President and Vice President equal to the whole number of Senators and Representatives in Congress to which the District would be entitled if it were a State, but in no event more than the least populous State; they shall be in addition to those appointed by the States, but they shall be considered, for the purposes of the election of President and Vice President, to be electors appointed by a State; and they shall meet in the District and perform such duties as provided by the twelfth article of amendment.

SECTION 2.

Congress given power to enforce this Article.—The Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

* The side notes indicate the decisions of the supreme court.

All amendments are shown by notes at the bottom of the page indicating the year in which they took effect. The amendments of 1792, "so far as relates to the choice of the members of the legislature and the executive officers of the state, county treasurer and recorder of deeds," took effect on February 1, 1793, and all others on the first Wednesday of June, 1793.

The amendments of 1850 took effect September 16, 1852; those of 1876, August 1, 1877, October 1, 1878, and the first Wednesday of June, 1879, as indicated in the foot notes; those of 1889, April 2, 1889; those of 1902 on March 26, 1903; and those of 1912 on November 20, 1912.

The numbering of the sections of Part II first appeared in the Revised Statutes of 1842. In 1889, when the tenth section of Part II was stricken out, all subsequent sections were renumbered, with the result of making much confusion in citations. In this copy the original numbers have been restored.

PART FIRST

BILL OF RIGHTS.

ARTICLE 1st. All men are born equally free and independent: Therefore, all government, of right, originates from the people, is founded in consent, and instituted for the general good.

Equality of men;
origin and object of government.
liii, 212. lxxv, 113.

[ART.] 2d. All men have certain natural, essential, and inherent rights — among which are, the enjoying and defending life and liberty; acquiring, possessing, and protecting, property; and, in a word, of seeking and obtaining happiness.

Natural rights.
liv, 117, 590.
lxxv, 103. lxxvii, 59.
lxxii, 95.
lxxiii, 33, 34.
lxxv, 31.
lxxvii, 581.
Society, its organization
and purposes.
liii, 9.
lxxi, 555.

[ART.] 3d. When men enter into a state of society, they surrender up some of their natural rights to that society, in order to ensure the protection of others; and, without such an equivalent, the surrender is void.

[ART.] 4th. Among the natural rights, some are, in their very nature unalienable, because no equivalent can be given or received for them. Of this kind are the Rights of Conscience.

Rights of conscience
liii, 9. lix, 225.

[ART.] 5th. Every individual has a natural and unalienable right to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience, and reason; and no subject shall be hurt, molested, or restrained, in his person, liberty, or estate, for worshipping God in the manner and season most agreeable to the dictates of his own conscience; or for his religious profession, sentiments, or persuasion; provided he doth not disturb the public peace or disturb others in their religious worship.

Religious freedom
liii, 9. lviii, 240.
lix, 225. lxiv, 48.
lxxvi, 420.

[ART.] 6th. As morality and piety, rightly grounded on evangelical principles, will give the best and greatest security to government, and will lay, in the hearts of men, the strongest obligations to due subjection; and as the knowledge of these is most likely to be propagated through a society, by the institution of the public worship of the Deity, and of public instruction in morality and religion; therefore, to promote these important purposes, the people of this state have a right to empower,

Public worship of the Deity to be encouraged.
liii, 9. lxvi, 230.
lxxv, 424, 562.
lxxvi, 408.

and do hereby fully empower, the legislature, to authorize, from time to time, the several towns, parishes, bodies corporate, or religious societies, within this state, to make adequate provision, at their own expense, for the support and maintenance of public Protestant teachers of piety, religion, and morality:

Right of electing religious teachers.
Sm., 1.
liii, 9, 138.
lvi, 508.
lxvi, 230.

Provided notwithstanding, that the several towns, parishes, bodies corporate, or religious societies, shall, at all times, have the exclusive right of electing their own public teachers, and of contracting with them for their support and maintenance. And no person, of any one particular religious sect or denomination, shall ever be compelled to pay towards the support of the teacher or teachers of another persuasion, sect, or denomination.

Free toleration.
liii, 9.

And every denomination of Christians, demeaning themselves quietly, and as good subjects of the state, shall be equally under the protection of the law: And no subordination of any one sect or denomination to another, shall ever be established by law.

Existing contracts not affected.

And nothing herein shall be understood to affect any former contracts made for the support of the ministry; but all such contracts shall remain, and be in the same state as if this constitution had not been made.

State sovereignty.
lxvi, 369.

[ART.] 7th. The people of this state have the sole and exclusive right of governing themselves as a free, sovereign, and independent state; and do, and forever hereafter shall, exercise and enjoy every power, jurisdiction, and right, pertaining thereto, which is not, or may not hereafter be, by them expressly delegated to the United States of America in congress assembled.

Accountability of magistrates and officers. lxvi, 369.
lxvii, 49.

[ART.] 8th. All power residing originally in, and being derived from, the people, all the magistrates and officers of government are their substitutes and agents, and at all times accountable to them.

No hereditary office or place.

[ART.] 9th. No office or place, whatsoever, in government, shall be hereditary — the abilities and integrity requisite in all, not being transmissible to posterity or relations.

[ART.] 10th. Government being instituted for the common benefit, protection, and security, of the whole community, and not for the private interest or emolument of any one man, family, or class of men; therefore, when ever the ends of government are perverted, and public liberty manifestly endangered, and all other means of redress are ineffectual, the people may, and of right ought to reform the old, or establish a new government. The doctrine of nonresistance against arbitrary power, and oppression, is absurd, slavish, and destructive of the good and happiness of mankind.

[ART.] 11th. All elections ought to be free, and every inhabitant of the state, having the proper qualifications, has equal right to elect, and be elected, into office; [but no person shall have the right to vote or be eligible to office under the constitution of this state who shall not be able to read the constitution in the English language and to write; provided, however, that this provision shall not apply to any person prevented by a physical disability from complying with its requisitions, nor to any person who now has the right to vote, nor to any person who shall be sixty years of age or upwards on the first day of January, A.D. 1904;]* [and provided further that no person shall have the right vote, or be eligible to office under the constitution of this state who shall have been convicted of treason, bribery, or any wilful violation of the election laws of this state, or of the United States; but the supreme court may, on notice to the attorney-general restore the privileges of an elector to any person who may have forfeited them by conviction of such offenses.]† [The general court shall have power to provide by law for voting by qualified voters who at the time of biennial or state elections, [or of the primary elections therefor,] or of city elections are absent from the city or town of which they are inhabitants, or who by reason of physical disability are unable to vote in person, in the choice of any officer or officers to be elected or upon any question submitted at such election.]††

[ART.] 12th. Every member of the community has a right to be protected by it, in the enjoyment of his life, liberty, and property; he is therefore bound to contribute his share in the expense of such protection, and to yield his personal service when necessary, or an equivalent. But no part of a man's property shall be taken from him, or applied to public uses, without his own consent, or that of the representative body of the people. Nor are the inhabitants of this state controllable by any other laws than those to which they, or their representative body, have given their consent.

[ART.] 13th. No person, who is conscientiously scrupulous about the lawfulness of bearing arms, shall be compelled thereto, provided he will pay an equivalent.

[ART.] 14th. Every subject of this state is entitled to a certain remedy, by having recourse to the laws, for all injuries he may receive in his person, property, or character; to obtain right and justice freely, without being obliged to purchase it; completely, and without any denial; promptly, and without delay; conformably to the laws.

[ART.] 15th. No subject shall be held to answer for any crime, or offense, until the same is fully and plainly, substantially and formally, described to him; or be compelled to accuse or furnish evidence against himself. And every subject shall have a right to produce all proofs that may be favorable to himself; to meet the witnesses against him face to face, and to be fully heard in his defense, by himself, and counsel. And no subject shall be arrested, imprisoned, despoiled, or deprived of his property, immunities, or privileges, put out of the protection of the law, exiled or deprived of his life, liberty, or estate, but by the judgment of his peers, or the law of the land.

[ART.] 16th. No subject shall be liable to be tried, after an acquittal, for the same crime or offense. Nor shall the legislature make any law that shall subject any person to a capital punishment, (excepting for the government of the army and navy, and the militia in actual service) without trial by jury.

No person to be again tried after an acquittal; trial by jury in capital cases. lxvii, 278, 279, 280. lxxx, 395.

[ART.] 17th. In criminal prosecutions, the trial of facts, in the vicinity where they happened, is so essential to the security of the life, liberty, and estate, of the citizen, that no crime or offense ought to be tried in any other county than that in which it is committed; — except in cases of general insurrection in any particular county, when it shall appear to the judges of the superior court, that an impartial trial cannot be had in the county where the offense may be committed, and upon their report, the [legislature]* shall think proper to direct the trial in the nearest county in which an impartial trial can be obtained.

Criminal trials in county, except in general insurrection. xx, 250. lvi, 175. lxi, 423, 426. lxvi, 504. lxxvii, 288.

[ART.] 18th. All penalties ought to be proportioned to the nature of the offense. No wise legislature will affix the same punishment to the crimes of theft, forgery, and the like, which they do to those of murder and treason. Where the same undistinguishing severity is exerted against all offenses, the people are led to forget the real distinction in the crimes themselves, and to commit the most flagrant with as little compunction as they do† the lightest [offenses]:‡ For the same reason a multitude of sanguinary laws is both impolitic and unjust. The true design of all punishments being to reform, not to exterminate mankind.

Penalties to be proportioned to offenses. lxxx, 6. True design of punishment.

[ART.] 19th. [Every subject hath a right to be secure from all unreasonable searches and seizures of his person, his houses, his papers, and all his possessions. Therefore, all warrants to search suspected places, or arrest a person for examination or trial in prosecutions for criminal matters, are contrary to this right, if the cause

In all controversies concerning property — and in all suits between two or more persons, except in cases in which it has been heretofore otherwise used and practiced, [and except in cases in which the value in controversy does not exceed [five] hundred dollars, and title of real estate is not concerned]†† the parties have a right to a trial by jury and this method of procedure shall be held sacred, unless, in cases arising on the high seas and such as relates to mariners' wages the legislature shall think it necessary hereafter to alter it.

[ART.] 21st. In order to reap the fullest advantage of the inestimable privilege of the trial by jury, great care ought to be taken, that none but qualified persons should be appointed to serve; and such ought to [be]* fully compensated for their travel, time, and attendance.

[ART.] 22d. The liberty of the press is essential to the security of freedom in a state: It ought, therefore, to be inviolably preserved.

[ART.] 23d. Retrospective laws are highly injurious, oppressive, and unjust. No such laws, therefore, should be made, either for the decision of civil causes, or the punishment of offenses.

court, nor grant commissions for exercising the law martial in any case, without the advice and consent of the council.

Pardoning power.

[ART. 52.] The power of pardoning offenses, except such as persons may be convicted of before the senate, by impeachment of the house, shall be in the governor, by and with the advice of council: But no charter of pardon granted by the governor, with advice of council, before conviction, shall avail the party pleading the same, notwithstanding any general or particular expressions contained therein, descriptive of the offense or offenses intended to be pardoned.

Militia officers, removal of.
lxxix, 535.

[ART. 53.] No officer duly commissioned to command in the militia shall be removed from his office, but by the address of both houses to the governor, or by fair trial in courtmartial, pursuant to the laws of the state for the time being.

Staff and non-commissioned officers by whom appointed.

[ART. 54.] The commanding officers of the regiments shall appoint their adjutants and quartermasters; the brigadiers, their brigade-majors; the major-generals, their aides; the captains and subalterns, their non-commissioned officers.

Division of militia into brigades, regiments, and companies.

[ART. 55.] The division of the militia into brigades, regiments and companies, made in pursuance of the militia laws now in force, shall be considered as the proper division of the militia of this state, until the same shall be altered by some future law.

And the governor shall have full power and authority to convene the council, from time to time, at his discretion; and, with them, or the majority of them, may and shall, from time to time hold a council, for ordering and directing the affairs of the state, according to the laws of the land.

Impeachment of councilors.

[ART. 63.] The members of the council may be impeached by the house, and tried by the senate for bribery, corruption, malpractice, or maladministration.

Secretary to record proceedings of council.
lxxix, 535.

[ART. 64.] The resolutions and advice of the council shall be recorded by the secretary, in a register, and signed by all members present agreeing thereto; and this record may be called for at any time, by either house of the legislature; and any member of the council may enter his opinion contrary to the resolutions of the majority, with the reasons for such opinion.

Councilor districts, provided for.

[ART. 65.] The legislature may, if the public good shall hereafter require it, divide the state into five districts, as nearly equal as may be, governing themselves by the number of [population],* each district to elect a councilor: And, in case of such division, the manner of the choice shall be conformable to the present mode of election in counties.

Elections by legislature may be adjourned from day to day; order thereof.

[ART. 66.] And, whereas the elections, appointed to be made by this constitution, on the first Wednesday of [January]† [biennially] by the two houses of the legislature, may not be completed on that day, the said elections may be adjourned from day to day, until the same be completed: and the order of the elections shall be as follows — the vacancies in the senate, if any, shall be first filled up: The governor shall then be elected, pro-

A BRIEF HISTORY OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

Early historians record that in 1623, under the authority of an English land-grant, Captain John Mason, in conjunction with several others, sent David Thomson, a Scotchman, and Edward and Thomas Hilton, fish-merchants of London, with a number of other people in two divisions to establish a fishing colony in what is now New Hampshire, at the mouth of the Piscataqua River.

One of these divisions, under Thomson, settled near the river's mouth at a place they called Little Harbor or "Pannaway," now the town of Rye, where they erected salt-drying fish racks and a "factory" or stone house. The other division under the Hilton brothers set up their fishing stages on a neck of land eight miles above, which they called Northam, afterwards named Dover.

Nine years before that Captain John Smith of England and later of Virginia, sailing along the New England coast and inspired by the charm of our summer shores and the solitude of our countryside, wrote back to his countrymen that:

"Here should be no landlords to rack us with high rents, or extorted fines to consume us. Here every man may be a master of his own labor and land in a short time. The sea there is the strangest pond I ever saw. What sport doth yield a more pleasant content and less hurt or charge than angling with a hook, and crossing the sweet air from isle to isle over the silent streams of a calm sea?"

Thus the settlement of New Hampshire did not happen because those who came here were persecuted out of England. The occasion, which is one of the great events in the annals of the English people, was one planned with much care and earnestness by the English crown and the English parliament. Here James the first began a colonization project which not only provided ships and provisions, but free land bestowed with but one important condition, that it remain always subject to English sovereignty.

So it remained until the "War of the Revolution." Smith first named it "North Virginia" but King James later revised this into "New England." To the map was added the name Portsmouth, taken from the English town where Captain John Mason was commander of the fort, and the name New Hampshire is that of his own English county of Hampshire.

Captain Mason died in 1635, just before his proposed trip to the new country which he never saw. He had invested more than twenty-two thousand pounds in clearing the land, building houses, and preparing for its defense, — a considerable fortune for those days. By then Dover and Portsmouth had expanded into Hampton and Exeter, and its income from fishing was increased by that from trade in furs and timber.

Taking the idea from the English government, a community of "towns" was erected, and this became a "royal province" in 1679 with John Cutt as president, with a population intended to be as nearly like England as it could be. The "royal province" continued until 1698 when it came under the jurisdiction of Massachusetts with Joseph Dudley as Governor. Thus it continued until 1741.

During that time England's throne had been ruled by William and Mary, Queen Anne, and George I, and New Hampshire was administered by no less than eight lieutenant governors. There had been much unrest in England and as a result, to New Hampshire's advantage, the Scotch settlers of Londonderry in Ireland had in 1719 sent many of their people here to form a "Scotch" colony in the new place they would call our own Londonderry.

Under King George II New Hampshire returned to its provincial status with a governor of its own, Benning Wentworth, who was its chief magistrate from 1741 to 1766.

During the first two decades of Governor Wentworth's term New Hampshire had been beset with Indian troubles. With little aid from England, then at war with its old-time enemy, France, the colonists undertook the sieges of Louisbourg, and helped to reduce Crown Point, and in the conquest of Canada. By the time of the signing of the Peace of Paris in 1762, and the end of the Indian fighting under the Rogers Rangers, the entire north country of New Hampshire was ready to be explored, surveyed, and populated.

Governor Wentworth who, as if in anticipation of this opportunity, seems to have been well prepared for it, had arranged the purchase for the sum of fifteen hundred pounds of the unauthenticated claims of Robert Mason, heir of Captain John Mason. This was done through a group of twelve influential citizens who called themselves the "Masonian Proprietors." Having done this, the governor kept the land "within the province."

Governor Wentworth, with all or most of the Masonian Proprietors as his councilors, then proceeded to grant towns to prospective settlers as equally as possible. In addition to the thirty-eight towns already granted, more than a hundred others followed after the year 1761. These towns contained lots available to more than thirty thousand families, many from the older towns in southern New Hampshire and Massachusetts, but many from other neighboring states. Some of these towns were located in Vermont, to be released later by a court order, which made the western shore of the Connecticut River the state boundary line.

While the new towns were occasionally given the names of the leading grantees, not a few of them bore the historic names of English royalty, frequently those of friends and relatives of Governor Wentworth and his own royal family, the Rockinghams, in England. Many of the beneficiaries were soldiers who had fought in the Indian wars, while a few were of Dutch origin, such as might settle from New York in New Hampshire.

The terms of the grants were simple. The Proprietors could convey only the soil, while the political rights and powers of government came from the province. Provision was made that no land should be subject to taxation or assessment until improved by those holding the titles. Rights were reserved for land for roads, churches and schools, to be built within a definite period of time, for the use of ministers and in many cases for mill-rights. Fees were nominal, often only a shilling or an ear of corn a year. All tall pines should be saved for the King's navy.

Benning Wentworth died in 1770. He was succeeded by his nephew who later became Sir John Wentworth, the last of the royal governors. He is perhaps best known because of his purchase of a thirty-six mile tract of land on the shore of Lake Winnepesaukee where he established an estate known as Kingswood. It afterward became Wolfeborough.

Governor Sir John Wentworth's beneficial acts to the state included the building of roads, including one from Portsmouth to Kingswood; publishing the first accurate state map; organizing the State militia, a member of which was Major Benjamin Thompson of Concord who afterward became known as Count Rumford; his help in founding Dartmouth College; and the building of Wentworth House, now owned by the State. Loyal to the English crown, he embarked for Nova Scotia at the beginning of the Revolution, there to become its Lieutenant-governor until his death in 1820.

A pre-Revolution event occurring in New Hampshire was the removal in 1774, by a small party of patriots at New Castle, of the powder and guns at Fort William and Mary. Other Revolutionary events included New Hampshire's participation in the Battle of Bunker Hill at which nearly all the troops doing the actual fighting were said to have been from this State; the signing of the Declaration of Independence by New Hampshire's Josiah Bartlett, Matthew Thornton, and William Whipple; General John Stark's victory at the Battle of Bennington; and the success of Captain John Paul Jones at sea.

Just as it was the first to declare its independence and adopt its own constitution, New Hampshire was the ninth and deciding state in accepting the National Constitution as that of a republic, never to be known under any other form of government. New Hampshire's John Langdon was the first acting vice-president of the United States, and was President of the Senate when Washington was elected first president.

Many events have helped to individualize New Hampshire's unique history as the decades have followed each other down to the present time. Both Washington and Lafayette passed within our borders. Meshech Weare was elected the first state "president." Morey's Connecticut River steam-boat preceded Fulton's by seventeen years. An American President, Franklin Pierce, and a Vice-president, Henry Wilson, were elected, both from New Hampshire. Daniel Webster won his famous Dartmouth College case before the Supreme Court. The first American public library was established at Peterborough. The world-recognized "Concord Coach" was made here, as was America's first cog-railroad to Mount Washington dating 1869.

Statesmen, educators, inventors, preachers, scientists, explorers, authors, industrialists, engineers, lawyers, diplomats, are all arrayed in the long line of notables New Hampshire claims as coming from her soil.

GEOGRAPHICAL LOCATION

New Hampshire is situated the most northern of the thirteen original states and lies between latitude 42-40 and 45-18 north and longitude 70-37 and 72-37 west. It is about 180 miles long and 50 miles wide, although the extreme width is 93 miles.

It is bounded on the north by Quebec province in Canada, on the east by Maine and the Atlantic ocean, on the south by Massachusetts, and on the west by Vermont. The Connecticut River is the western boundary.

"MOTHER OF RIVERS"

Geographies sometimes speak of the state as the "Mother of Rivers." Five of the great streams of New England originate in its granite hills. The Connecticut River rises in the northern part, and for nearly one hundred miles of its winding course hems the shores of the state with a "broad seam of silver." The Pemigewasset River starts in the Profile Lake in the Franconia mountains and joins the Winnepesaukee at Franklin to form the Merrimack, which at one time turned more spindles than any other river in the world. The Cochecho and Salmon Falls rivers join at Dover to form the Piscataqua. In addition, two of the principal rivers of Maine, the Androscoggin and the Saco, have their beginnings in northern New Hampshire.

New Hampshire has 1300 lakes or ponds and 40,000 miles of rivers and streams which provide year round fishing and recreation in scenic surroundings, as well as power for the State's many industries.

"THE GRANITE STATE"

New Hampshire is commonly known as the Granite State, and of late years by some writers is called the Queen State — "Queen by right of her natural beauty; queen by her native hardy spirit; queen by her diversified industry; queen by reason of her motherhood of great men. She is enthroned on hills of granite, diademed with sparkling waters and sceptered with industry."

The state entertains annually over a million summer visitors who resort in the mountain, lake and seashore scenery, — in fact it has been estimated that a million automobiles cross our borders annually! The soil is suitable for fruits, flowers and vegetables. The forests of pine, spruce and hard wood add beauty to the landscape and wealth to the land.

The White Mountains are the natural feature which has the widest fame. New Hampshire bodies of water cover one hundred and fifteen thousand acres and vary from small ponds to Lake Winnepesaukee, which is twenty-two miles long and eight miles wide.

New Hampshire's publicly-owned aerial tramway, the first erected to a mountain top in North America, is located in Franconia Notch near The Old Man of the Mountain. Its cars have carried 2,000,000 passengers in their eight-minute ascent of the 2022 feet to the top.

No state grows apples of finer flavor than come from the hillsides of New Hampshire. Horticultural shows have no better exhibits than are presented from towns in the southern part of this state, where the orchards have been sprayed and treated by the latest scientific methods. Strawberries, blueberries, peaches and products of the garden are grown in great quantities and shipped hundreds of miles.

New Hampshire is also famous for her products made from the sap of the maple tree.

Dairying is a large business and in recent years the quality of the herds has increased tenfold. There are 5,779,840 acres of land in the state, 1,960,061 acres being in farm land, with the number of farms estimated at 16,554, according to the 1940 farm census. There were over two and one-half million acres of timber land, which contained over thirty billion feet of merchantable timber, but the disastrous hurricane of 1938 has sadly depleted the standing timber in New Hampshire's granite hills.

It is estimated that every year more than four million dollars is permanently invested in the purchase of land and the construction of buildings in the rural districts. Nearly every town has some summer visitors. Winnepesaukee shores are lined with cottages and hotels; Sunapee has a summer population of over five thousand, who enjoy its beauties.

The state has a seaboard of about eighteen miles. Hampton and Rye beaches have been famous summer resorts since the days Whittier pitched his "tent on the beach." The salt waves of the Atlantic lap the sometimes sandy, sometimes rocky coast into one continuous pleasure ground, where surf bathing and scenic beauty enchant the visitor. In the early fall of 1915 a disastrous fire at Hampton Beach destroyed many of the hotels and places of business there, but the resort has since been rebuilt from the ruins until it is larger and more attractive than ever. The recreational area at Hampton Beach has greatly improved the appearance of that part of the coast. The state maintains a large public bath house and a parking area there. The erection of a sea wall in 1934 not only improved the property along the coast, but was a necessary measure against coast erosion.

Among New Hampshire's all-year, all-season recreation attractions, none are more popular than its winter sports. Mount Washington is the highest mountain east of the Rockies and north of the Mason-Dixon Line. Its privately-owned cog railway was the first mountain climbing railway in the world.

New Hampshire has some of the finest ski terrain in the east where the sport may be enjoyed well into July and August. Its many lifts include the widely known Cranmore skimobile, operated all year, and Tuckerman, Cannon, Sunapee and Gilford slopes.

Portsmouth, the only sea city, has an historic past and a prosperous present with its large navy yard. New Castle is a place of romance and aesthetic beauty and adventure. A large part of the Isles of Shoals in Portsmouth harbor belongs to New Hampshire, with their cottages and hotels. Lobster fishermen find the Isles of Shoals and the New Hampshire coast favorable areas for taking this famous sea food. The state highways are as fine as any state can boast of and are kept in excellent driving condition the year round. New Hampshire is open to visitors, from the coast to the mountains, twelve months in the year.

FISH AND GAME

In 1865 New Hampshire joined the vanguard of American science by establishing a fish and game department, the first one of its kind in New England. Since that date, some eighty odd years ago, the efforts of this department have been devoted to the propagation and conservation of fish and game.

In modern times the cultivation of fish and the protection of wild life have demanded the application of scientific methods quite as much as any other element of our life. It is a known fact that while European countries have found vast resources in their shore fisheries, the United States is by no means able to rely on her coast fisheries, and has thus been obliged to develop her inland waters to meet the needs that otherwise could have been met only by importation from other countries. Moreover, while Europe's supply is bound to lessen in time to come, our supply will continue to increase.

Today, New Hampshire's Fish and Game Department employs a balanced team of trained wildlife men, fish culturists, and law enforcement officers to maintain and increase the available supplies of her native species under the pressure of vastly increased demand. To do so means that every one of her waters and every bit of cover must be contributing its full share to the state's crop. Research personnel are constantly exploring new avenues to increase natural productivity, while evaluating the results of current practices.

Since World War II, a program of modernization and expansion of fish rearing facilities has more than doubled the annual output available for stocking. Beautiful new rearing stations which rank with any in the country for modern design and efficient operation have been built at Merrymeeting Lake, New Durham at Summer Brook in Ossipee, and at Merrimack, between Manchester and Nashua. Five other stations at Colebrook, Twin Mountain, Warren, New Hampton, and Richmond have been completely reconditioned.

Fish and game is now recognized as a major factor in the recreation business which is one of New Hampshire's foremost sources of revenue. We can be justly proud of the effective teamwork between department personnel and the sportsmen of the state who are looking forward with the eye of true conservationists to establishing the fish and wildlife species of our state on a secure footing for future years. Deer, grouse, black bear, snowshoe hares, landlocked salmon, togue, black bass, and several species of brook trout are only a few of the wild residents which are to be found in such plenty as to make sportsmen choose New Hampshire first.

"COME TO NEW HAMPSHIRE"

New Hampshire believes in progress and development in every direction. It is the third most industrialized state in the Union and prizes itself on the quality and diversification of its products. New Hampshire is the home of the famous breed of poultry known as the "New Hampshires." She invites the whole world to visit her mountains, the "playground of America." Those seeking opportunity for profitable farming will do well to write for further information to the Commissioner of Agriculture, Concord, N. H.; sportsmen are invited to send for literature and advice to the Fish and game Director, Concord, N. H.; those looking for business openings, either in manufacturing enterprises or in the retail field, should correspond with the New Hampshire Planning and Development Commission, Concord, N. H.

THE STATE HOUSE

The first discussions regarding the erection of a suitable state capitol building in New Hampshire took place in the year 1814. It was indeed a memorable year. The War of 1812 had come to a close with the signing of the Treaty of Ghent, although the news had not reached America until after our troops under General Jackson had continued fighting into 1815 and won the famous battle of New Orleans.

Other matters attracted state attention. One was the election of a "Republican" governor, William Plumer, who defeated the "Federalists." Another was the Dartmouth College case in which the Governor favored state domination of the College. The legislature considered the proposed new capitol building, but first had to determine in what locality it would be.

The contest was between Concord, Hopkinton, and Salisbury, the last named town having offered seven thousand dollars for the honor. In the end Concord won, and by 1816 final action had been taken to build there.

Considerable expense was saved the town of Concord by the decision to build the Capitol of granite from what are now the Swenson quarries at the north end of the town, and to have the cutting and shaping and facing of the stones done by the inmates of the prison.

A feature of the new and imposing building thus provided was its huge gold-painted wooden eagle, which was raised to the top of the dome in 1818. Appropriate ceremonies presided over by Governor Plumer were marked by a series of toasts, one of which was, "The American Eagle. May the shadow of his wings protect every acre of our united continent and the lightning of his eye flash terror and defeat through the ranks of our enemies."

The new building's actual cost was only approximately $82,000, but it provided adequate quarters for the legislature and committees, the Governor and Council, the Secretary of State, the Treasurer, and the library. Stuart J. Park, the builder, goes down in history as having done an admirable job, and he has a Concord street to the north of the building, Park Street, named in his honor. The first session of the legislature to be held in the new building was in 1819.

There is no record of discussion of enlargements or expansion of Capitol facilities until 1857. At that time there was pointed out the need for more library space and rooms for new departments. Nothing was done, however, until the problem became acute in one of the Civil War years, 1863, through the offer of the city of Manchester of a sizeable sum to build a new capitol and locate it there. This amount was stated to be no less than half a million dollars.

The legislature having voted to retain the Capitol in Concord, plans were at once made to undertake its enlargement and remodeling. This was begun in 1864 and completed by 1866. The cost was said to have been approximately $200,000.

In 1881, plans having been proposed to gain new space for needs caused by growth in State operations, by the removal of the library to a building of its own, plans for such a building were made. These plans, as ultimately adopted, not only provided for a "State Library," but for the Supreme Court as well, and the building was finally completed in 1895. The Library was later enlarged in 1903.

Not until 1903 was the problem of increasing needs for more space in the conduct of the State's business to come under discussion. In this discussion the point was conclusively made that "the majority of State offices cannot be provided with accommodations and are located in other buildings" and that this was uneconomical and ought to be corrected.

Acting under a resolution which instructed the Governor and Council to remedy this situation, Governor Bachelder employed a firm of Boston architects to prepare a plan for an extensive enlargement of the Capitol.

The arguments included the danger from fire, the inadequacy of the House and Senate to seat the membership, and the lack of meeting rooms for the legislative committees. This called for what amounted to an entirely new state house at an expense of approximately a million dollars, and by 1909 a bill for such an amount was introduced.

Again the city of Manchester entered the scene, offering the million if the state house might be removed and rebuilt there. The legislature voted again to retain the Capitol in Concord, and an act for the issuance of bonds for the construction required was passed.

Governor Quinby and his Council then employed architects under whose plans the entire building was remodeled precisely as it is today, making the entire building fire-proof in all its parts, providing electric elevators, modern lighting, vaults, and an up-to-date heating system. During the years following, the proposal of 1903 regarding the necessity of providing for the various departments under one head was again considered, and plans were drawn in 1937 for the present State House Annex.

The corner-stone for this new undertaking was laid in 1938, and the cost at completion, including a considerable grant from the federal government, amounted to $327,000. Here are housed more than twenty of the State's departments in modern, well-equipped offices. The Annex is connected by an underground passageway with the Capitol itself.

Since the building of the Annex, other improvements have been undertaken to keep the State government in step with modern progress. Recently the entire outer surface of the Capitol Building has been expertly sanded and washed, restoring the granite stones to their original clean, fresh appearance.

Likewise the statues of John Stark, Daniel Webster, President Pierce, John P. Hale, and Commodore Perkins have been properly cleaned and made tarnishproof by a modern professional process. Also the gilded wooden eagle, the Capitol Building's long familiar emblem, having been found to be suffering from the effects of many decades of weathering, has been replaced by an element-proof metal replica which now adorns the dome where its gold will glisten in the sunshine of long years to come. These things are among the accomplishments of the administration of Governor Lane Dwinell.

OUTLINE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE GOVERNMENTAL PERIODS

1. First Period

This was a period of early settlement in New Hampshire, from 1623 to 1641, a period of 18 years. There was no provincial organization, only local self-government. The first settlements were at Portsmouth and Dover.

Royal Executive	Governor of Plymouth Colony	Governor of Massachusetts Bay
James I	William Bradford	John Winthrop
1623-26	1623-33	1631-35
Charles I	Edward Winslow	Thomas Dudley
1626-50	1634	1635
	Thomas Prince	John Haynes
	1635	1636
	William Bradford	Henry Vane
	1636	1637
	Edward Winslow
	1637
	(First Settlements at Hampton and Exeter)
	William Bradford	John Winthrop
	1638	1638-40
	Thomas Prince	Thomas Dudley
	1639	1641
	William Bradford
	1640-44

2. Second Period

This was the period of the first union of the New Hampshire towns and Massachusetts Bay colony. From 1641 to 1679, 38 years.

Royal Executive

Charles I, 1626-50

Charles II, 1650-86

Governor

Richard Bellingham, 1642

John Winthrop, 1643-45

John Endicott, 1645

Thomas Dudley, 1646

John Winthrop, 1647-50

Thomas Dudley, 1651

John Endicott, 1652-55

Richard Bellingham, 1655

John Endicott, 1656-66

Richard Bellingham, 1666-74

John Leverett, 1674-79

3. Third Period

This was the period of the first separate province government. From 1679 to 1686, seven years.

Royal Executive

Charles II, 1650-86

James II, 1686-88

Provincial Executive

John Cutt, president, 1680-81

Richard Waldren, deputy-president,
1681-82

Edward Cranfield, lieutenant-governor,
1682-85

Walter Barefoote, deputy-governor
1685-86

4. Fourth Period

This was the period of government under the dominion of New England. From 1686 to 1689, three years.

Royal Executive

James II, 1686-88

(Interregnum) 1686-89

Provincial Executive

Joseph Dudley, president, 1686-87

Sir Edmund Andros, governor, 1686-89

5. Fifth Period

This was the second period of local self-government of New Hampshire towns. From 1689 to 1690, one year. William and Mary were king and queen of England and there was no executive over New Hampshire.

6. Sixth Period

This was the period of the second union of New Hampshire with the Massachusetts Bay colony. From 1690 to 1692, two years. William and Mary were royal executives during this period and Simon Bradstreet was governor of Massachusetts Bay colony, including New Hampshire.

7. Seventh Period

This was the period of the permanent provincial government. From 1692 to 1775, in all 83 years.

Royal Executive

William and Mary, 1689-95

William III, 1695-1703

Provincial Executive

John Usher, lieutenant-governor, 1692-97

William Partridge, lieutenant-governor,
1697-98

Queen Anne, 1703-15
George I, 1715-28
George II, 1728-61

George III, 1761-

Samuel Allen, governor, 1698-99
Earl of Bellomont, governor, 1699-1701
William Partridge, lieutenant-governor,
1701-02
Joseph Dudley, governor, 1703-16
Samuel Shute, governor, 1716-24
John Wentworth, lieutenant-governor,
1724-30
Jonathan Belcher, governor, 1730-41
Benning Wentworth, governor, 1741-66
John Wentworth, governor, 1766-75

8. Eighth Period

This was the revolutionary period. From 1775, when the royal government ceased, to 1784, when the present state constitution went into effect. Nine years. The government vested in the committee of safety, of which Matthew Thornton was head from 1775 to 1776, by virtue of his office as president of the provincial congress, and Mesch Weare was president during the remainder of the period.

9. Ninth Period

This is the period of statehood. From 1784 to the present time, 165 years.

President

George Washington, 1789-97

John Adams, 1797-1801
Thomas Jefferson, 1801-09
James Madison, 1809-17

James Monroe, 1817-25

John Q. Adams, 1825-29

Andrew Jackson, 1829-37

Martin Van Buren, 1837-41
William H. Harrison, 1841
John Tyler, 1841-45
James K. Polk, 1845-49

Zachary Taylor, 1849-50
Millard Fillmore, 1850-53
Franklin Pierce, 1853-57

James Buchanan, 1857-61

Abraham Lincoln, 1861-65

Andrew Johnson, 1865-69

As parts of Massachusetts Bay Colony (1641-3 to 1679) the towns of Hampton, Exeter, Dover, and Strawberry Bank were comprised within Norfolk county, which was one of the four shires, viz., Essex, Middlesex, Suffolk, and Norfolk, into which the Bay Colony was separated from "3d month, 10th day 1643."

The Province of New Hampshire agitated the subject of county establishment for years previous to decisive action in 1769, one plan, which came to nought in 1755, being to make two counties, Portsmouth and Cumberland, with the Merrimack as the dividing line.

The act which passed April 29, 1769, contained the provision that it should not take effect until "his majesty's royal approbation thereof be known," and the further provision that "said counties of Strafford and Grafton shall be for the present annexed to and deemed and taken as parts and members of the County of Rockingham  until the governor by and with the advice of the council shall declare them respectively sufficient for the exercise of their respective jurisdictions and no longer." Governor John Wentworth, in a message to the house of representatives in March, 1771, said "It gives me great pleasure to inform you that his majesty has been graciously pleased to approve and confirm the act for dividing this Province into counties." The existence of Rockingham, Hillsborough, and Cheshire counties began on March 19, 1771, Strafford and Grafton having received authority to exercise and enjoy county privileges, as set forth in Governor John Wentworth's message to the house on May 28, 1772, their separation from Rockingham became effective on June 5, 1773, by the terms of the act of February 5, 1773, "fixing the times and places for holding courts in  Grafton county," four months being allowed for the building of "prisons, court houses," etc.

FIRST DIVISION

The division of 1769, by the "Act for dividing this Province into Counties and for the more easy administration of Justice," was as follows: "The bounds of the first County to begin at the mouth of Piscataqua River and to run up the same to the Easterly corner of Newmarket including the River, and from thence Northwesterly by the Easterly and Northerly sidelines of Newmarket, Epping, Nottingham, Chichester and Canterbury to the River, and down the same line of Concord including the River, then round the Westerly Lines of Bow, Concord and Pembroke to Merrimack River, thence down the same to the North west corner of Derryfield, thence by the Easterly lines of Derryfield, Litchfield and Nottingham. West to the Province Line, thence by said line to the Sea, thence by the Sea to the bounds first mentioned, including all that part of the Isles of Shoals which belongs to this Province.

"The Bounds of the Second County to begin at the North west corner of Canterbury, and from thence to cross the River, then down the River to Pemigewasset, then to run up Pemigewasset River to Campton, thence round the Westerly end of Campton, and by the Northerly sidelines of Campton, Sandwich & Tamworth & thence Easterly to the Province line, on the same course with the Northerly sideline of Eaton, thence down said Province line to the line of the first County, thence by the same to the bounds first mentioned.

"The bounds of the Third County to begin at the South East corner of Nottingham West, thence by the Province line to the South East corner of Rindge, thence by the Easterly sideline of Rindge, Monadnock Number two, Dublin, the Townships Number Six, Number Seven & Number Eight, thence to the South end of Sunnape Pond, thence by the Easterly side of said Pond, to the North end thereof, thence by the North westerly sideline of Dantzick Heidlebourg, and by the Northerly sidelines of Heidlebourg and North Westerly sideline of Emery's Town to Pemigewasset River, thence down the same to the bounds of the first County, thence by the same to the bounds first mentioned.

"The bounds of the Fourth County to begin at the South East corner of Rindge, & from thence to run Westerly by the Province line to the Western Banks of Connecticut River, thence up the same till it comes opposite to the North west corner of Plainfield, then crossing the River to the last mentioned corner of Plainfield, thence by the Northerly sidelines of Plainfield & Grantham, to the North East corner of Grantham thence by the Easterly sideline of Grantham & the North sideline of Saville to the boundary line of the third County, thence by the same to the bounds first mentioned.

"And the fifth County to contain all the lands in the Province not comprehended in the other Countys.

"And all the Towns, Parishes, Precincts or Places within the bounds aforesaid respectively shall be deemed, accepted, named & taken as parts and Members of the respective Countys aforesaid. And the Names of the said Counties shall be and are hereby as follows viz the name of the first County Rockingham, the name of the second County Strafford, the Name of the Third County Hillsborough, the Name of the fourth County Cheshire, the Name of the fifth County Grafton.

"That the said Counties of Strafford & Grafton shall be for the present annexed to, & deemed & taken as parts and Members of the County of Rockingham and Subject to the Jurisdiction and Authority of the Courts, Magistrates and Officers of the said County of Rockingham to all intents and purposes and shall remain so annexed, deemed & taken and Subject until the Governor by and with the advice and consent of the Council shall declare them respectively sufficient for the exercise of their respective Jurisdictions and no longer.

"That the Times and Places of holding the said Courts in the said Counties of Strafford and Grafton shall be established as the Governor, Council and Assembly shall Judge most Convenient at the Time the Governor and Council shall determine they may assume the actual exercise of their County Privileges. — But that this act nor any Clause therein shall be in force nor have any Effect till his Majesty's Royal approbation thereof be known."

The supplementary act of Jan. 29, 1841, established a boundary line "beginning at the easterly termination of the line dividing the towns of Meredith and Moultonborough; thence running easterly to the Southerly point of Long Island in Winnepissiogee Lake; thence easterly to the Southerly point of Parker's island; thence easterly to the westerly termination of the line dividing the towns of Wolfborough and Alton; and all the lands and waters lying northerly of Said line and between that and Said towns of Moultonborough, Tuftonborough and Wolfborough shall constitute a part of Said County of Carroll; and all the lands and waters lying Southerly of Said line and between that and said towns of Meredith, Gilford and Alton Shall constitute a part of Said County of Belknap."

On March 23, 1897, the boundary line between Belknap and Carroll Counties was established as follows:

"The County of Belknap is bounded thus: beginning at the easterly corner of Pittsfield; thence by the northerly lines of Pittsfield, Loudon, Canterbury, Northfield, and Franklin to the westerly line of Sanbornton; thence by the westerly lines of Sanbornton and New Hampton to the southerly line of Ashland; thence by the southerly line of Ashland and Holderness to the westerly line of Center Harbor; thence by the westerly line of Center Harbor to the northerly corner of Center Harbor; thence by the northerly line of Center Harbor to the easterly termination of the line separating the towns of Center Harbor and Moultonborough; thence easterly to the southerly point of Long Island in Winnepesaukee Lake; thence easterly to the southerly part of Parker's Island; thence easterly to the northwesterly end of Keniston's Island, sometimes called Baker's Island; Thence along the southerly shore of said island to the easterly end of the same: thence to the westerly termination of the line separating the towns of Wolfeborough and Alton; thence on the northerly line of Alton to the northerly corner of New Durham; thence by the county of Strafford to the bound first mentioned.

"All of the islands in said Lake Winnepesaukee lying southerly of said line, excepting Diamond Island, and between the easterly and westerly lines of Alton shall belong to and become a part of said Alton, and all the Islands in said lake lying north of said line, between the easterly and westerly lines of Wolfeborough, shall belong to and become a part of said Wolfeborough."

THE COUNTIES

When New Hampshire was a part of the colony of Massachusetts Bay, from 1641 to 1679, the principal towns of New Hampshire were part of Norfolk county in Massachusetts. New Hampshire did not divide herself into counties, however, until 1769, six years before the Revolution. In that year the five counties of Rockingham, Strafford, Hillsborough, Cheshire and Grafton were established.

Coos was the sixth county, established in 1803. Merrimack was established in 1823. Sullivan in 1827, and Belknap and Carroll in 1840. Since the original division into counties the legislature on twenty occasions has amended and changed the layout. The following is a list of counties in their customary order, giving the name of each, the date of its establishment and the place of the county seat.

Name	Date	County Seat
Rockingham	1769	Exeter
Strafford	1769	Dover
Belknap	1840	Laconia
Carroll	1840	Ossipee
Merrimack	1823	Concord
Hillsborough	1769	Nashua
Cheshire	1769	Keene
Sullivan	1827	Newport
Grafton	1769	Haverhill
Coos	1803	Lancaster

Rockingham county is in the southeastern part of the state and was the first part settled. Charles Watson Wentworth, the Marquis of Rockingham, friend of the American Colonies was a relative and close friend of New Hampshire's governor, Sir John Wentworth. It includes the city of Portsmouth and thirty-six towns.

Strafford county is in the eastern part of the state north of Rockingham county. William Wentworth, the Earl of Strafford, was prominent in English political history and a relative of the Wentworth governors. It includes three cities and ten towns.

Belknap county takes in the lake region in the central part of the state. Dr. Jeremy Belknap, minister at Portsmouth was the author of a history of the state of New Hampshire. It includes the city of Laconia and ten towns.

Carroll county is in the east central part of the state and is sparsely settled. Charles Carroll was a signer of the Declaration of Independence and represented Maryland in the first Congress. He died in 1832. It includes eighteen towns.

Merrimack county is in the Merrimack River region in the south central part of the state. It was named for the river and includes two cities and twenty-five towns.

Hillsborough county is in the south central part of the state and is the most thickly populated. Wills Hill, Earl of Hillsborough, was President of the English Board of Trade and Planations in 1763 and a friend of Governor Benning Wentworth. It includes two cities and twenty-nine towns.

Cheshire county is in the southwestern corner of the state. Cheshire, England, was the home of Admiral Vernon, who commanded a British fleet and was a relative of the Wentworth governors. It includes the city of Keene and twenty-two towns and one city.

Sullivan county is in the west central part of the state, and like Cheshire county, was embroiled in early boundary disputes. It was named for John Sullivan, and includes the city of Claremont and fourteen towns and one city.

Grafton county is in northwestern part of the state and large parts of it are sparsely settled. It was named by Governor John Wentworth for the Duke of Grafton, England's sixth Prime Minister and Secretary of State under Lord Rockingham, and includes thirty-seven towns and one city.

Coos county is in the northern part of the state and is the largest county. It was named after an Indian word meaning "crooked" and was so called on account of the bend in the Connecticut River. It has an area of about a million acres and includes the city of Berlin and twenty-one towns.

THE CITIES

Berlin. Granted 1771 by Governor John Wentworth as Maynesborough to his friend, Sir William Mayne, and others. Incorporated 1829 as Berlin. Coos county, second congressional, first councilor and first senatorial districts.

Claremont. Granted 1764 by Governor Benning Wentworth. Claremont Castle in Surry, England was owned by the Duke of Newcastle who was related by marriage to the Wentworth governors. The original settlement contained "the governor's farm." Part of Unity was annexed in 1828. Incorporated as a city, 1947. Sullivan county, second congressional, fifth councilor and eighth senatorial districts.

Concord. Granted 1659 as Penacook, the name of a tribe of Indians. Regranted 1725. Incorporated as Rumford, 1733. Incorporated by Governor Benning Wentworth, 1765, as Concord, following the peaceful settlement of a long boundary controversy. Part of Canterbury and Loudon annexed 1784. Parts of Bow annexed, 1804 and 1856. Incorporated as a city, 1853. Capital of New Hampshire since 1800. Merrimack county, second congressional, fifth councilor and seventh, ninth and fifteenth senatorial districts.

Dover. Originally Hilton's Point, bearing the name of its original settler in 1623. Later known as Northam and Cocheco, an Indian name. Incorporated as Dover, 1641. Became a city, 1855. Strafford county, first congressional, second councilor and twenty-first senatorial districts.

Franklin. Incorporated 1828 from parts of Andover, Northfield, Salisbury and Sanbornton. Named for Benjamin Franklin. Incorporated as a city, 1895. Merrimack county, second congressional, fifth councilor and seventh senatorial districts.

Keene. Granted 1733 as Upper Ashuelot, an Indian name. Re-granted 1753 by Governor Benning Wentworth as Keene, the name of his friend, Sir Benjamin Keene, one-time English Consul at Cadiz, Spain. Swanzy annexed, 1812. Incorporated as a city, 1873. Cheshire county, second congressional, fourth councilor and tenth senatorial districts.

Laconia. Incorporated 1855 from a part of Meredith. Part of Gilford annexed, 1874. Incorporated as a city, 1893. Belknap county, first congressional, fifth councilor and sixth senatorial districts.

Lebanon. Granted 1761 by Governor Benning Wentworth. Became a city in 1957. Grafton county, second congressional, first councilor and fifth senatorial districts.

Manchester. Incorporated 1751 by Governor Benning Wentworth as Derryfield, having formerly been known as Harrytown and Tyngs Town. Incorporated 1810 as Manchester after the English cotton mill center. Became a city in 1846. Parts of Goffstown and Bedford annexed in 1853. Hillsborough county, first congressional, third councilor and sixteenth, seventeenth and eighteenth senatorial districts.

Nashua. Originally Dunstable, a part of Massachusetts. Granted 1746 by Governor Benning Wentworth. Incorporated as Nashua after the Indian name, Nashoway, 1836. Became a city in 1853. Hillsborough county, second congressional, fourth councilor and twelfth and thirteenth senatorial districts.

Portsmouth. Earliest settlement, 1623, in New Hampshire. Named after Portsmouth, England, where John Mason, the founder and original grantee of New Hampshire, was Captain of the Fort. Known to the colonists as Piscataqua and Strawberry Bank, it was incorporated as Portsmouth in 1653. In 1821, part of Newington was annexed. Incorporated as a city in 1849. Rockingham county, first congressional, second councilor, twenty-third and twenty-fourth senatorial districts.

Rochester. Granted in 1722 by Lieutenant Governor John Wentworth, the Earl of Rochester having been Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, Chancellor and Lord High Treasurer of England. Incorporated as a city, 1891. Strafford county, first congressional, second councilor and twentieth senatorial districts.

UNITED STATES SENATORS FROM NEW HAMPSHIRE

The following is a list of the senators from this state, and the years of service. One of the first senators, John Langdon, was chosen president pro tempore of the first national senate in 1789 and presided over that body until Vice-President John Adams qualified as president of the senate by virtue of his office as vice-president. Senator Langdon was again elected president in the second senate in 1792-3. Senator Samuel Livermore was elected president of the fourth senate in 1795-6 and of the sixth senate in 1799-1800. Senator Daniel Clark was elected president of the thirty-eighth senate in 1863-4. Senator Jacob H. Gallinger was elected president of the sixty-second senate in 1911-13. Senator George H. Moses was elected president pro tempore in 1925, re-elected 1927, 1929, 1931.

Senator Styles Bridges was elected president pro tempore of the eighty-third congress, 1953-1954.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES—1789—1963

Under the constitutional apportionment which provided for a house of representatives in congress, New Hampshire was allotted three seats. The national census of 1790 (first census) increased this to four, the second census of 1800 to five and the third census of 1810 to six seats. The census of 1830 reduced it to five, that of 1840 to four and that of 1850 to three. The census of 1870 reduced it to two, but the seat taken away was restored until the next census of 1880, since when the state has had two representatives.

Revolutionary Councilors, 1776—84

Article 60 of the second part of the constitution provides for an executive council of five men to advise and act with the governor. Before the constitution there was a council both under the temporary constitution of the Revolution and under the provincial government. Since 1913 councilors have been elected by plurality vote to represent population but previously to that they were elected by majority vote to represent property, and in the colonial days they were appointed.

The following is a complete list of all the councilors since the Revolution giving the name and address of each and the year in which he was elected or appointed.

THE SENATE

The senate began under the constitution and first met in 1784. There were at first twelve senators who represented the five counties that then existed, five senators from Rockingham county, two from Strafford, two from Hillsborough, two from Cheshire, and one from Grafton. In 1793 senatorial districts were created to take the place of county representation and each district elected one senator. The elections during the early years took place in March and the legislature met in June annually.

The senatorial districting of 1793 was changed over in 1803 and several times subsequently. In 1878 the senate was doubled in size. In 1915 the senators were elected by plurality instead of majority vote. The following is a complete list of the senators from the beginning, showing the name and residence of each member of each senate, arranged in the order of districts from 1793, when the districts were created, and previous to that year, in the order of counties.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE

Articles 66, 67 and 68 of the second part of the constitution provide for a department of state with a secretary of state who is elected biennially by the legislature and a deputy secretary of state appointed by the secretary. In the colonial period there was a secretary appointed by the chief executive, but no deputy. During the revolutionary period and under the constitution of 1784 the secretary was chosen by the legislature and given authority to have several deputies, but in 1793 the constitution was changed to provide for a single deputy.

The following is a list of the secretaries of state from the beginning, together with the term which each served and a list of the deputy secretaries.

STATE EMBLEMS

CHAPTER 3

State Emblems, Flag, etc.

REVISED STATUTES ANNOTATED

3:1. State Emblem. The state emblem shall be of the following design: Within an elliptical panel, the longest dimension of which shall be vertical, there shall appear an appropriate replica of the Old Man of the Mountains; surrounding the inner panel, and enclosed within another ellipse, there shall be at the bottom of the design the words of any state motto which may be adopted by the general court; and at the top of the design, between the inner and outer elliptical panels, the words, New Hampshire, appropriately separated from the motto, if adopted, by one star on each side. Said emblem may be placed on all printed or related material issued by the state and its subdivisions relative to the development of recreational, industrial, and agricultural resources of the state.

3:2. State Flag. The state flag shall be of the following color and design: The body or field shall be blue and shall bear upon its center in suitable proportion and colors a representation of the state seal. The seal shall be surrounded by a wreath of laurel leaves with nine stars interspersed. When used for military purposes the flag shall conform to the regulations of the United States.

3:3.—When Displayed. It shall be displayed above the state house whenever the legislature is in session and during meetings of the governor and council when expedient, and upon such other occasions as the governor may designate.

3:4.—Permission to Use. The governor is authorized to permit use of the state flag at such times and in such manner as may seem to him proper and reasonable, upon written application for the same.

3:5. State Flower. The purple lilac, Syringa Vulgaris, is the state flower of New Hampshire.

3:6. State Tree. The white birch tree, Betula Papyrifera, is the state tree of New Hampshire.

3:7. State Song. The song "Old New Hampshire" with words by Dr. John F. Holmes and music by Maurice Hoffmann is hereby declared to be the state song of New Hampshire.

3:8. State Motto. The words "Live Free or Die," written by General John Stark, July 31, 1809, shall be the official motto of the state.

3:9. State Seal. The seal of the state shall be two inches in diameter, circular, with the following detail and no other: A field crossed by a straight horizon line of the sea, above the center of the field; concentric with the field the rising sun, exposed above the horizon about one third of its diameter; the field encompassed with laurel; across the field for the full width within the laurel a broad-side view of the frigate Raleigh, on the stocks; the ship's bow dexter and higher than the stern; the three lower masts shown in place, together with the fore, main and mizzen tops, shrouds and mainstays; an ensign staff at the stern flies the United States flag authorized by act of Congress June 14, 1777; a jury staff on the mainmast and another on the foremast each flies a pennant; flags and pennants are streaming to the dexter side; the hull is shown without a rudder; below the ship the field is divided into land and water by a double diagonal line whose highest point is sinister; no detail is shown anywhere on the water, nor any on the land between the water and the stocks except a granite boulder on the dexter side; encircling the field is the inscription, SEAL . OF . THE . STATE . OF . NEW HAMPSHIRE, the words separated by round periods, except between the parts of New Hampshire; at the lowest point of the inscription is the date 1776, flanked on either side by a five-pointed star, which group separates the beginning and end of the inscription; the whole form and design to be as follows:

3:10. State Bird. The purple finch is hereby designated as the official state bird of New Hampshire.

CHAPTER 573

Offenses Against the National and State Flags

REVISED STATUTES ANNOTATED

573:1. Marking Flags, etc. No person shall in any manner, for exhibition or display, place, or cause to be placed any inscription, design, device, symbol, name, advertisement, words, character marks, or notice whatever upon the national flag, or upon any flag, standard, color, or ensign of the United States, or upon the flag of this state, or upon any state flag or ensign of any other state, or upon any flag or ensign evidently purporting to be either of said flags, standards, colors or ensigns.

573:2. Affixing to Flags, etc. No person shall in any manner append, annex or affix, or cause the same to be done, to any such flag, standard, color, or ensign any inscription, design, device, symbol, name, advertisement, words, marks, or notice whatever, or exhibit or display, or cause to be exhibited or displayed, and such flag, standard, color, or ensign, or any flag or ensign evidently purporting to be either of the same, upon which shall in any manner be placed, attached, annexed, or affixed any instruction, design, device, symbol, name, advertisement, words, marks, or notice whatever.

573:3. Using as Advertisement. No person shall expose, or cause to be exposed, to public view, manufacture, sell, expose for sale, give away, or have in possession for sale or to give away or for use for any purpose, any article or substance, being an article of merchandise or a receptacle of merchandise or article or thing for carrying or transporting merchandise, upon which shall have been printed, painted, attached, or otherwise placed a representation of any such flag, standard, color, or ensign, to advertise, call attention to, decorate, mark, or distinguish the article or substance.

573:4. Mutilation, etc. No person shall publicly mutilate, trample upon, defile, deface, or cast contempt upon, either by words or acts, any of said flags, standards, colors, or ensigns, whether the same are public or private property.

573:5. Penalty. Whoever violates any of the foregoing provisions shall be fined not more than fifty dollars, or imprisoned not more than thirty days, or both.

573.6. Exceptions. Flags, standards, colors, or ensigns, the property of, or used in the service of, the United States or of this state, may have inscriptions, names, actions, words, marks, or symbols placed thereon, pursuant to law or authorized regulations.

573:7. Display of Flag of Foreign Country on Public Building. It shall not be lawful to display the flag of any foreign country upon any state, county, or municipal buildings; provided, that whenever any foreigners shall become the guests of the United States, the state or any city, upon public proclamation by the governor or the mayor of such city, the flag of the country of which such public guest shall be a citizen may be displayed upon such public buildings.

573:8. Display of the United Nations Flag. It shall not be lawful to display the flag of the United Nations upon the buildings or grounds of any state, county or municipal property or upon the buildings or grounds of any college, university, school or other institution of learning, unless the flag of the United States is simultaneously displayed, and then only if the flag of the United Nations is subordinated thereto.

573:9. Penalty. If any person shall violate any of the provisions of the two sections preceding he shall be fined not more than one hundred dollars, or imprisoned not more than one year, or both.

WHEN NEW STATES JOINED THE UNION

The 13 original States were Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New Hampshire, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Georgia. Following the ratification of the Constitution, new States were admitted in this order:

14. Vermont	Mar. 4, 1791	33. Oregon	Feb. 14, 1859
15. Kentucky	June 1, 1792	34. Kansas	Jan. 29, 1861
16. Tennessee	June 1, 1796	35. West Virginia	June 20, 1863
17. Ohio	Mar. 1, 1803	36. Nevada	Oct. 31, 1864
18. Louisiana	Apr. 30, 1812	37. Nebraska	Mar. 1, 1867
19. Indiana	Dec. 11, 1816	38. Colorado	Aug. 1, 1876
20. Mississippi	Dec. 10, 1817	* North Dakota	Nov. 2, 1889
21. Illinois	Dec. 3, 1818	* South Dakota	Nov. 2, 1889
22. Alabama	Dec. 14, 1819	41. Montana	Nov. 8, 1889
23. Maine	Mar. 15, 1820	42. Washington	Nov. 11, 1889
24. Missouri	Aug. 10, 1821	43. Idaho	July 3, 1890
25. Arkansas	June 15, 1836	44. Wyoming	July 10, 1890
26. Michigan	Jan. 26, 1837	45. Utah	Jan. 4, 1896
27. Florida	Mar. 3, 1845	46. Oklahoma	Nov. 16, 1907
28. Texas	Dec. 29, 1845	47. New Mexico	Jan. 6, 1912
29. Iowa	Dec. 28, 1846	48. Arizona	Feb. 14, 1912
30. Wisconsin	May 29, 1848	49. Alaska	Jan. 3, 1959
31. California	Sept. 9, 1850	50. Hawaii	Aug. 21, 1959
32. Minnesota	May 11, 1858

*North Dakota and South Dakota were admitted simultaneously on November 2, 1889. To avoid precedence to either State, President Harrison shuffled the proclamations before signing.

FEDERAL CENSUS

THE UNITED STATES

The United States is composed of fifty states, one district, one commonwealth, and five major non-contiguous territories and possessions.

The republic originated in the rebellion of the British Colonies of North America, Canada excepted, in 1776, and in the Declaration of Independence, the thirteen colonies in revolt styled themselves "The United States of America."

The Canadian boundary line is 3,900 miles in length, the Mexican boundary line being 1,975 miles in length.

According to the 1940 Federal census, the first basic re-measurement of the land and water area of the continental United States since 1880 showed a total area of 3,022,387 square miles, consisting of 2,977,128 square miles land area, and 45,259 square miles inland water area. The total area of Alaska, according to this census, is 586,400 square miles and the total area of Hawaii is 6,419 square miles.

The Capitol of the United States is at Washington, D. C. The corner stone of the original building was laid on September 18, 1793 by President George Washington. The original building was finally completed in 1827, its cost, including the grading of grounds, alterations and repairs up to that year, having been $2,433,844.13.

FEDERAL CENSUS OF 1960

Number of Inhabitants

The State. New Hampshire was one of the Thirteen Original States. Its population on April 1, 1960, according to the Eighteenth Census, was 606,921. The State has a land area of 9,017 square miles. In 1960 there was an average of 67.3 inhabitants per square mile as compared with an average of 59.1 in 1950. Among the States and the District of Columbia, New Hampshire ranked 45th in population and 44th in land area.

In 1790 New Hampshire had a population of 141,885 (Table 1). In 1960, 170 years later, its population was over four times as large. The rate of population growth of the State has been consistently below that for the Nation as a whole. In the twentieth century, the intercensal rates of growth ranged from a low of 2.9 per cent to a record high of 13.8 per cent. In 1900 the population of the State was 411,588, and in 1950 it was 533,242.

Usual place of residence. In accordance with census practice dating back to 1790, each person enumerated in the 1960 Census was counted as an inhabitant of his usual place of residence or usual place of abode, which is generally construed to mean the place where he lives and sleeps most of the time. This place is not necessarily the same as his legal residence, voting residence, or domicile; however, in the vast majority of cases, the use of these different bases of classification would produce substantially the same statistics, although there may be appreciable differences for a few areas.

In the application of this rule, persons were not always counted as residents of the places in which they happened to be found by the census enumerators. Persons in the larger hotels, motels, and similar places where guests usually pay for quarters were enumerated on the night of March 31, and those whose usual place of residence was elsewhere were allocated to their homes. In addition, information on persons away from their usual place of residence was obtained from other members of their families, landladies, etc. If an entire family was expected to be away during the whole period of the enumeration, information on it was obtained from neighbors. A matching process was used to eliminate duplicate reports for a person who reported for himself while away from his usual residence and who was also reported at his usual residence by someone else.

Persons in the Armed Forces quartered on military installations were enumerated as residents of the States, counties, and minor civil divisions in which their installations were located. Members of their families were enumerated where they actually resided. As in 1950, college students were considered residents of the communities in which they were residing while attending college. The crews of vessels of the U. S. Navy and the American Merchant Marine in harbors of the United States were counted as part of the population of the ports in which their vessels were berthed on April 1, 1960. Inmates of institutions, who ordinarily live there for long periods of time, were counted as inhabitants of the place in which the institution was located; whereas patients in general hospitals, who ordinarily remain for short periods of time, were counted at, or allocated to, their homes. Persons without a usual place of residence were counted where they were enumerated.

Americans who were overseas for an extended period (in the Armed Forces, working at civilian jobs, studying in foreign universities, etc.) are not included in the population of any of the States or the District of Columbia. On the other hand, persons temporarily abroad on vacations, business trips, and the like, were enumerated at their usual residences on the basis of information received from members of their families or from neighbors.

Urban-rural residence. Data on the population of the State by urban-rural residence are shown for the State in Table 1 and for the counties, or comparable areas, in Table 6.* According to the definition adopted for use in the 1960 Census, the urban population comprises all persons living in (a) places of 2,500 inhabitants or more incorporated as cities, boroughs, villages, and towns (except towns in New England, New York, and Wisconsin); (b) the densely settled urban fringe, whether incorporated or unincorporated, of urbanized areas (see section below); (c) towns in New England and townships in New Jersey and Pennsylvania which contain no incorporated municipalities as subdivisions and have either 25,000 inhabitants or more or a population of 2,500 to 25,000 and a density of 1,500 persons or more per square mile; (d) counties in States other than the New England States, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania that have no incorporated municipalities within their boundaries and have a density of 1,500 persons or more per square mile; and (e) unincorporated places of 2,500 inhabitants or more.

This definition of urban is substantially the same as that used in 1950; the major difference between 1950 and 1960 is the designation in 1960 of urban towns in New England and of urban townships in New Jersey and Pennsylvania. The effect on population classification arising from this change was actually less than the list of those places classified as urban under special rules would suggest, because, in 1950, most of the population living in such places was classified as urban by virtue of residence in an urbanized area or in an unincorporated urban place. (See following sections.) In censuses prior to 1950, the urban population comprised all persons living in incorporated places of 2,500 inhabitants or more and areas (usually minor civil divisions) classified as urban under somewhat different special rules relating to population size and density. In all definitions, the population not classified as urban constitutes the rural population. In the tables presenting the population by urban-rural residence, the "current" urban definition refers to the population classified in accordance with the definitions used in 1950 and 1960. The term "previous" urban definition refers to the definition used prior to 1950.

The most important component of the urban territory in all definitions is the group of incorporated places having 2,500 inhabitants or more. A definition of urban territory restricted to such places, however, excludes a number of equally large and densely settled places merely because they are not incorporated places. Under the definition used previous to 1950, an effort was made to avoid some of the more obvious omissions by the inclusion of selected places which were classified as urban under special rules. Even with these rules, however, many large and closely built-up places were excluded from the urban territory.

To improve its measure of the urban population, the Bureau of the Census adopted, in 1950, the concept of the urbanized area and delineated, in advance of enumeration, boundaries for unincorporated places. All the population residing in urban-fringe areas and in unincorporated places of 2,500 or more is classified as urban according to the "current" definition. The urban towns, townships, and counties as defined for the 1960 Census are somewhat similar in concept to the minor civil divisions classified as urban under special rules in 1940 and 1930.

For the convenience of those interested in the historical trend of the urban and rural population, the 1950 and 1960 population figures are shown on the basis of both the "current" definition and the "previous" definition. Although the Bureau of the Census has employed other definitions of "urban" in prior years, the urban and rural population figures published here as according to the "previous" definition have been revised to present a substantially consistent series.

Minor civil divisions. To the primary political divisions into which counties or comparable areas are divided, the Bureau of the Census applies the general term "minor civil divisions." Statistics on the population of each county or comparable area by minor civil divisions appear in Table 7.* Incorporated places which are not themselves minor civil divisions and unincorporated places are shown indented under the minor civil divisions in which they are located. When an incorporated or unincorporated place lies in more than one minor civil division, the population of the several parts is shown in table 7 under the appropriate minor civil division, and each part is designated as "part." The total population of such places appears in table 8. Unincorporated places are designated by "U" and urban towns and townships by "UT." Changes effected between 1950 and 1960 in boundaries of the areas are shown in the notes at the end of Table 7.* Boundary changes occurring between 1940 and 1950 are given in Table 6 of State reports of the 1950 Census of Population.

Places. The term "place" as used in reports of the decennial censuses refers to a concentration of population, regardless of the existence of legally prescribed limits, powers, or functions. Most of the places listed are incorporated as cities, towns, villages, or boroughs, however. In addition, the larger unincorporated places outside the urbanized areas were delineated and those with a population of 1,000 or more are presented in the same manner as incorporated places of equal size. Each unincorporated place possesses a definite nucleus of residences and has its boundaries drawn so as to include, if feasible, all the surrounding closely settled area. Furthermore, unincorporated places are shown within urbanized areas if they have 10,000 inhabitants or more and if there was an expression of local interest in their recognition. The towns in New England and townships in New Jersey and Pennsylvania recognized as urban are also counted as places.

Incorporated places. Political units recognized as incorporated places in the reports of the decennial censuses are those which are incorporated as cities, boroughs, towns, and villages with the exception that towns are not recognized as incorporated places in the New England States, New York, and Wisconsin. The towns in these States are minor civil divisions similar to the townships found in other States and not necessarily thickly settled centers of population such as the cities, boroughs, towns, and villages in other States. Similarly, in New Jersey and Pennsylvania, where some townships possess powers and functions similar to those of incorporated places, the townships are not classified as "incorporated places." Thus some minor civil divisions which are "incorporated" in one legal sense of the word are not regarded by the Census Bureau as "incorporated places." Without this restriction all of the towns in the New England States, New York, and Wisconsin and the townships in New Jersey and Pennsylvania would have to be counted as incorporated places without any consideration of the nature of population settlement. A number of towns and townships in these States do qualify, however, as urban towns or townships and in others the densely settled portions are recognized as unincorporated places or as parts of an urban fringe.

Unincorporated places. As in the 1950 Census, the Bureau has delineated boundaries for densely settled population centers without corporate limits. All such places of 1,000 inhabitants or more are shown in Tables 7 and 8.* Population data for 1950 are shown only for those unincorporated places which had the same name in both 1950 and 1960. Of course, the boundaries of many such places have changed as the communities have grown.

Urban places. The count of urban places in 1960 includes all incorporated and unincorporated places of 2,500 inhabitants or more, and the towns, townships, and counties classified as urban. Under the "previous" urban definition, places of 2,500 or more and the areas urban under special rules were urban places.

Urbanized areas. The major objective of the Bureau of the Census in delineating urbanized areas was to provide a better separation of urban and rural population in the vicinity of the larger cities, but individual urbanized areas have proved to be useful statistical areas. They correspond to what are called "conurbations" in some other countries. An urbanized area contains at least one city of 50,000 inhabitants or more in 1960,¹ as well as the surrounding closely settled incorporated places and unincorporated areas that meet the criteria listed below. All persons residing in an urbanized area are included in the urban population.

It appeared desirable to delineate the urbanized areas in terms of the 1960 Census results rather than prior to the census as was done in 1950. For this purpose a peripheral zone around each 1950 urbanized area and around cities that were presumably approaching a population of 50,000 was recognized. Within the unincorporated parts of this zone small enumeration districts were planned,² usually including no more than one square mile of land area and no more than 75 housing units.

Arrangements were made to include within the urbanized area those enumeration districts meeting specified criteria of population density as well as adjacent incorporated places. Since the urbanized area outside of incorporated places was defined in terms of enumeration districts, the boundaries for the most part follow such features as roads, streets, railroads, streams, and other clearly defined lines which may be easily identified by census enumerators in the field and often do not conform to the boundaries of political units.

In addition to its central city or cities, an urbanized area also contains the following types of contiguous areas, which together constitute its urban fringe:

1. Incorporated places with 2,500 inhabitants or more
2. Incorporated places with less than 2,500 inhabitants, provided each has a closely settled area of 100 dwelling units or more
3. Towns in the New England States, townships in New Jersey and Pennsylvania, and counties elsewhere which are classified as urban
4. Enumeration districts in unincorporated territory with a population density of 1,000 inhabitants or more per square mile (The area of large nonresidential tracts devoted to such urban land uses as railroad yards, factories, and cemeteries, was excluded in computing the population density of an enumeration district.)

¹ There are a few urbanized areas where there are "twin central cities" that have a combined population of at least 50,000. See the section on "Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas" in State reports of the 1960 Census of Population for further discussion of twin central cities, neither of which has a population of 50,000 or more.

² An enumeration district (ED) is a small area assigned to an enumerator which must be canvassed and reported separately. In most cases an ED contains approximately 250 housing units.

5. Other enumeration districts in unincorporated territory with lower population density provided that they served one of the following purposes:

- a. To eliminate enclaves
- b. To close indentations in the urbanized area of one mile or less across the open end
- c. To link outlying enumeration districts of qualifying density that were no more than $1\frac{1}{2}$ miles from the main body of the urbanized area.

Contiguous urbanized areas with central cities in the same standard metropolitan statistical area are combined. Urbanized areas with central cities in different standard metropolitan statistical areas are not combined, except that a single urbanized area was established in the New York-Northeastern New Jersey Standard Consolidated Area, and in the Chicago-Northwestern Indiana Standard Consolidated Area.

The boundaries of the urbanized areas for 1960 will not conform to those for 1950, partly because of actual changes in land use and density of settlement, and partly because of relatively minor changes in the rules used to define the boundaries. The changes in the rules include the following:

1. The use of enumeration districts to construct the urbanized areas in 1960 resulted in a less precise definition than in 1950 when the limits were selected in the field using individual blocks as the unit of area added. On the other hand, the 1960 procedures produced an urbanized area based on the census results rather than an area defined about a year before the census, as in 1950.

2. Unincorporated territory was included in the 1950 urbanized area if it contained at least 500 dwelling units per square mile, which is somewhat different criterion than the 1,000 persons or more per square mile of the included 1960 unincorporated areas.

3. The 1960 areas include those entire towns in New England, townships in New Jersey and Pennsylvania, and counties that are classified as urban in accordance with the criteria listed in the section on urban-rural residence. The 1950 criteria permitted the exclusion of portions of these particular minor civil divisions.

In general, however, the urbanized areas of 1950 and 1960 are based on essentially the same concept, and the figures for a given urbanized area may be used to measure the population growth of that area.

An urbanized area may be thought of as divided into the central city, or cities, and the remainder of the area, or the urban fringe. Any city in an urbanized area which is a central city of a standard metropolitan statistical area is also a central city of the urbanized area. With but two exceptions, the names of the central cities appear in the titles of the areas. The central cities of the New York-Northeastern New Jersey Area are the central cities of the New York, Newark, Jersey City, and Paterson-Clifton-Passaic Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas. Likewise, the central cities of the Chicago-Northwestern Indiana Area are the central cities of the Chicago and Gary-Hammond-East Chicago Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas.

Data for the entire urbanized area are shown in Table 10 for each State in which a central city of the area is located.* If that part of an urbanized area that extends into another State does not include a central city, data are shown only for that part within the State.

*In State reports of the 1960 Census of Population.

DIRECT PRIMARY

September 11, 1962

DIRECT PRIMARY, 1962

Persons voted for at a primary, who received a plurality of all the votes cast by a party, shall be candidates of that party for the office designated in the ballot. — RSA 56:53.

The direct primary election was held September 11, 1962, with candidates of the Republican and Democratic parties participating.

In the summary immediately following are the full names and residences of the candidates, also their total votes. Then follow tables carrying the vote in detail and giving only the last names of the candidates.

The first tables give by counties the votes for Governor, United States Senator, Full Term and Short Term. The next tables give by districts the votes for Representatives in Congress, the votes for Councilors, and the votes for State Senators. Then follow the tables showing the votes for county offices, and recounts after the Primary.

RECOUNTS AFTER THE PRIMARY

After the Primary, twenty-two recounts of ballots were conducted by the Secretary of State, thirteen of these were Republican contests, and nine were Democratic contests.

Approximately three-quarters of the ballots of the Second Congressional District were recounted, and, at the request of Bert Teague, the recount was terminated.

The recount of votes in the third Commissioner District of Cheshire County resulted in a change of nominee, giving Harold E. Savage a total of 2,583 votes to 2,573 votes for Elmer L. Johnson.

One Democratic Representative recount in Manchester Ward 11 resulted in a change of nominee.

Berlin ward 1 and Manchester ward 3 resulted in tie votes for one place, and the ties were broken by the Secretary of State.

Following are the tables with the nominees of the Republican and Democratic parties indicated by asterisks:

REPUBLICAN ORGANIZATION

September 26, 1962

REPORT OF THE PLATFORM COMMITTEE

The Republican Party of New Hampshire in Convention assembled this 26th day of September, 1962, pauses in its deliberations to pay tribute to the late United States Senator Styles Bridges:

Styles Bridges was one of the few upon whom the very existence of this nation depended. He devoted his almost limitless energies and his life to fighting, through the Party of his choice, for achievement of the goals which he believed his America should attain.

Many battles he won. Some he lost as we all do, but even his defeats always demonstrated the effective Bridges' leadership in the Republican Party.

So Styles Bridges, our friend, lives on, his life woven into the stuff of the lives of thousands who are better and happier because they knew this truly great American.

Inspired by his dedication to Republican principles, the Party presents the following pledges as its commitment for future administration of the government of our State:

Our Candidates

We endorse for Governor, John Pillsbury, whose ability, experience and integrity is held in highest regard.

For the same reasons, we endorse, with equal confidence, Norris Cotton and Perkins Bass for the United States Senate, and Louis Wyman and James Cleveland for the United States Congress.

We declare our united support of all other party nominees for State, County and local offices.

We commend His Excellency, Governor Wesley Powell, United States Senator Maurice J. Murphy, Jr., and Congressman Chester E. Merrow, for their outstanding services to their State and Country.

Agriculture

1. Continued support of all existing programs which are of benefit to our farmers.
2. Consider new means of helping New Hampshire farmers to a better economy in an increasingly competitive field.

Education

1. Complete implementation of the millage formula for the University of N. H., including authorization of the construction of a physical education plant.
2. Upgrading of faculty salaries and professional status at Plymouth and Keene Teachers Colleges to the level of comparable institutions.
3. Full State support for educational television.
4. Full State support for special classes for retarded children.
5. A program of technical education at the post-high school level.

Health and Welfare

All needy senior citizens are entitled to adequate medical care and other assistance.

We pledge support of a program which will maintain their dignity and assure them of this service.

Highways

The Republican Party recognizes the increasing dependence of the State upon highway transportation for its economic growth and pledges:

1. A program of construction and road maintenance, giving proper consideration to all geographical areas of the state and making use of all federal funds available without increasing gasoline or motor vehicle taxes.
2. Increased emphasis on road betterment program.
3. Proper programing of adequate inter-state access roads and bridges.

Industry

1. An aggressive program to support existing business and industry.
2. An aggressive program to attract and develop new business and industry throughout the State.
3. Complete utilization of natural resources, mineral potential, and forest products.

Labor

We Republicans are proud of the peaceful and fruitful relations between Labor and Management in New Hampshire, which has resulted in a growing New Hampshire economy, and has placed New Hampshire among the two or three states having the highest ratio of employment in the United States.

We pledge ourselves to a program which will insure the continuance of these achievements.

Recreation

1. Continued expansion of promotional activities by the State to advertise the year-round recreational advantages of New Hampshire.
2. Encouragement of private expansion of recreational facilities.
3. A long range program to obtain reasonable access for the public to ocean, lake and stream areas.
4. Preserve and promote the historical aspects and scenic areas of N. H.
5. An independent Fish and Game Commission.

State Personnel

Fair and equitable consideration of State employees.

Taxes

1. Balanced budget without placing further tax burden on local communities.
2. No sales tax.
3. No income tax.
4. Earmark the head tax for educational purposes, that will help relieve the local property tax.
5. Unclaimed motor boat fuel taxes to be earmarked for improving and reclaiming surface waters and rebuilding dams.

Transportation

Establishment of an effective transportation policy which would cooperate with federal programs in the specific areas of rail and air transportation including development of Portsmouth Harbor.

Veterans

Careful protection and preservation of the rights and benefits of veterans and their dependents.

Water Pollution

1. Increase State aid to municipalities for water pollution abatement.
2. Increase program for aquatic nuisance control.

Conclusion

The continued expansion and stability of our State's economy, and the promotion of prosperity for our people have been achieved under Republican administrations during the past 37 years.

We submit this record to the people of our State for their approval and we re-dedicate ourselves to good government and progress for the common good of all the people in the State of New Hampshire.

DEMOCRATIC ORGANIZATION

September 21, 1962

Preamble

The New Hampshire Democratic Party asserts its belief in the two-party system of government as a safe-guard for democracy. When any party believes it holds perpetual title to power, the beginning of the end of responsible government is in sight; should that party actually hold this title, democracy can no longer exist. The deficiencies of the present State administration are ample demonstration of the peril in which our State lies. The question of reviving healthy two-party government in New Hampshire has reached a state of urgency. The New Hampshire Democratic Party pledges itself to renewed and sustained efforts to maintain in New Hampshire the traditional American way of Government.

Agriculture

The Democratic Party of New Hampshire feels that a more lively attention must be given to the particular problems of New Hampshire farmers than has been shown in recent years.

1. We support the general objectives of the New Hampshire Milk Control Act and we advocate a price reduction to consumers, if such a price reduction can be brought about without severe and irreparable harm to local suppliers.

2. We believe that Federal controls or marketing orders on poultry, egg and turkey production will restrict New Hampshire farmers and raise prices to consumers; we therefore oppose all Federal legislation aimed at imposing such controls.

3. We propose that the Bond purchased by live poultry buyers be raised to a figure set by the Commissioner of Agriculture.

4. We are in favor of adequate funds for the College of Agriculture and Experiment station at the University of New Hampshire to keep New Hampshire abreast of modern times.

5. Since rail transportation grain is the largest cash cost for New Hampshire's poultry and dairy industry, we recommend that the appropriate state agencies seek to have the rail rates on these commodities lowered, with the savings passed on to the ultimate purchasers.

Economic Development

The Democratic Party of New Hampshire believes that New Hampshire's economic prosperity depends in large measure on vigorous leadership by the State in the area of long range economic planning and stimulation of the economy cannot be accomplished piecemeal, but only by a total co-ordinated effort.

Therefore:

1. We recommend that urban renewal and rehabilitation programs be encouraged throughout the State, to take maximum advantage of Federal aid, much of which is now being lost.
2. We recommend the establishment of a position of Economic Co-ordinator as part of the Executive Branch, to function as economic planning liaison with all State and Federal agencies, private groups, and the Legislature.
3. We recommend strengthening of the Research section of the Department of Resources and Economic Development, and charging it with full responsibility for making preliminary studies necessary for the formation of over-all State economic development objectives and programs.
4. We recommend the formation of a joint Senate-House Committee and Economic Planning to oversee all bills in the Legislature relating to the well-being of the State's economy.
5. We recommend the full exploitation of all Federal programs designed to aid the economic growth and well-being of the State.
6. We favor greater support of the present efforts of the Industrial Section of the Department of Resources and Economic Development in encouraging and co-ordinating efforts of communities to solicit new business for themselves and the State.
7. We believe the program for industrial park development should receive the energetic support of appropriate State agencies.
8. We support every effort to promote New Hampshire's vacation-travel business. Specifically, we recommend that promotional advertising be increased; that Federal support be sought for a comprehensive land study of park and recreational facilities; we recommend such changes in the liquor and entertainment laws that are in the public interest; that action be taken to attract private investment in year-round recreational facilities, especially in potential ski areas.
9. We recommend the establishment of a Bureau of Business Research in the School of Economics and Business Administration at the University of New Hampshire. We urge greater support of the School of Engineering at the University of New Hampshire, as part of a program for attracting science-based industries to the State.

10. We urge that a study be made of laws and regulations that may tend to restrict exploration of potential mineral areas.
11. We recommend a study of those statutes and practices that tend to be restrictive to making electrical power available for industries and homes.

Education

The Democratic Party of New Hampshire supports the administration of the public school system on the local level. However, we find that educational opportunities in New Hampshire are NOT equal for all students, due primarily to:

1. Low and unequal pay scales.
2. Lack of state funds to supplement property taxes in hard pressed communities.
3. Lack of consolidation into larger school districts.

The Democratic Party of New Hampshire notes especially that our State is 50th in the Union in percent of educational aid given by the State. The lack of such aid is in large measure responsible for slow consolidation, unequal pay scales, and sub-standard curricula.

Therefore, to correct these inequities:

1. We endorse increased State Aid to Education, to be allocated on the basis of:
 - a. Supplementary funds to communities for general education use, based on a revised Foundation aid formula, which would provide substantial help to those communities whose abilities to pay is below the State norm.
 - b. Matching funds to achieve a State-wide minimum salary scale for teachers and administrators, with higher qualifications required.
 - c. Continued construction aid up to 75% of the cost to those districts which have achieved maximum consolidation.
 - d. Continued construction aid at 30% of costs to all other districts.
2. We believe that the budget of the State Department of Education should be increased so that it can properly exercise its functions of guidance, leadership, and in-service training.

3. We believe that the Legislature should make appropriations large enough to support fully those educational programs it orders undertaken by the State Department of Education or the local school districts.
4. We believe that the State Board of Education should prepare a plan for the re-organization of school districts to achieve increased efficiency and quality of education. The Board should place this comprehensive plan of re-organization before the Legislature for action. This plan should guide the Board in distribution of State Aid.
5. We believe minimum standards should be established for elementary school curricula by the State Board of Education, and made mandatory by State Legislation.
6. We endorse the revised Minimum Standards and Recommended Practices for New Hampshire Secondary Schools, and we believe they should be made mandatory by State Legislation.
7. We believe that all areas of New Hampshire should be assured adequate reception of educational TV. When this is accomplished, we urge expansion of enrichment programs for all groups.
8. We believe that the existing technical-vocational schools should be strengthened and modernized; that the three new schools be built rapidly, without continuation of the political wrangling which has delayed the construction of the New Technical Institute. We urge that the technical curriculum and the high school industrial arts programs be modernized to prepare the skilled work force which New Hampshire demands. We also believe that home economics and industrial arts equipment and courses in the elementary schools must be modernized.
9. We believe that the faculty at the State Teachers Colleges should be governed by a salary scale equivalent to that of UNH. We further believe that the State should not treat UNH as a political football, not stint in supporting it, financially and morally. We believe that all State supported Institutions of higher learning should be under the jurisdiction of One Board of Trustees, such as that of UNH, which should be expanded in size, the new members to be appointed by the State Board of Education.
10. We support continued and expanded Federal Aid to education, without any slackening of the State's Responsibilities to support its schools, and with State supervision of the distribution of the funds. We call attention to the fact that it is in those areas now supported by Federal Aid that New Hampshire education has made outstanding progress: guidance, science, mathematics and foreign languages.

In addition to the foregoing,

11. We endorse the Kennedy Program for Physical Fitness in our schools.

Government Organization

The Democratic Party of New Hampshire recognizes the need to improve the machinery through which government may be made more effective, efficient, responsive to majority wishes and protective of individual rights.

THEREFORE:

1. We recommend checks on one party and personal aggrandizement through:
 - a. Establishment of bi-partisan boards of supervisors of the check-lists for every town in the State.
 - b. Reapportionment of the New Hampshire Senate on the basis of population rather than taxable wealth; and review of the present apportionment of the New Hampshire House of Representatives to determine the degree to which legislative seats correspond to population.
 - c. Establishment of genuinely bi-partisan administrative Boards and Commissions by requiring that not more than one half plus one of the members be of the same political party and that minority appointments must be approved by leaders of the minority party.
 - d. A thorough review of recent reorganizations within the Executive Branch, and of services extended to the people of this State by the various Administrative Departments.
2. We recommend improvements in governmental efficiency through:
 - a. Enactment of home rule legislation to provide individual municipalities with authority to operate and control the governmental activities for which they are responsible.
 - b. Closer cooperation between the State and the cities and towns.
 - c. A thorough review of the State Constitution at the next opportunity in order to determine the changes needed for improved government efficiency and responsibility.
 - d. The enactment of a right-to-know law.

- e. Adoption of a strong conflict of interest law.
- f. Advocating the ordering of a complete study of the election laws and advocate strengthening such laws where necessary.

Health, Welfare and Public Institutions

The Democratic Party of New Hampshire deplors the recent high-handed actions of the Governor of New Hampshire when he ignored the intent of the Legislature in establishing the Advisory Commission on Health and Welfare.

Therefore:

1. We pledge to restore the proper functions of the Advisory Commission and promise that the advice of representatives of the professional organizations of this State will no longer be spurned.

In addition,

2. We recommend that the qualification standards for social workers in this State be raised and the salary be made commensurate with the responsibilities of these positions. We further recommend that more qualified social workers be engaged by the State so that the caseload per worker can be maintained at a practical level.
3. We recommend more and better foster homes for dependent children. To accomplish this, we recommend a higher, more uniform rate of subsidy for these homes.
4. We recommend the creation of expanded treatment facilities and resident care for emotionally disturbed children.
5. We believe that community mental health services should be encouraged with monetary assistance from the State.
6. We believe that provision should be made for emergency receiving centers connected with local hospitals, so that acutely disturbed persons can get immediate treatment for limited periods of time.
7. We recommend a "Half Way House" system whereby the mentally ill and alcoholics can be assisted in the transition from treatment to the rigors of normal living.
8. We recommend the expansion of medical facilities in large urban communities: out patient clinics, treatment centers and rehabilitation programs for the chronically ill and handicapped.
9. We urge an analysis of the relationship between County Hospitals and Nursing Homes to eliminate any lacks and/or overlapping of services.
10. We recommend greater rehabilitation efforts for "first offenders" confined to the State Prison.

11. We recommend that the Department of Health cooperate with neighboring States to establish diagnostic laboratories and treatment facilities for the control of cancer and other diseases.
12. We recommend the elimination of United States citizenship requirements in all public assistance programs.

Labor

The Democratic Party of New Hampshire asserts its belief in the dignity of Labor and the rights of individuals to join unions for collective bargaining, free from interferences, restraints or coercion from their employer. We believe that a free labor movement is essential to democracy and the free enterprise system.

Therefore:

1. We are unalterably opposed to any so-called "Right to Work" laws.
2. We favor a $1.25 minimum wage for all persons including hotel, restaurant and farm workers; and time and a half for all work in excess of 40 hours per week and eight hours per day.
3. We pledge improvement of the New Hampshire Workmen's Compensation Law to comply with the recommendations outlined by the Federal Government, and to include the following:
 - a. Re-employment rights for injured workers.
 - b. Increased weekly benefits for injured employees.
 - c. Liberalization of ceiling for partially disabled employees.
 - d. Increases in weekly compensation for widows and children.
 - e. Extension of the statute of limitations on industrial accidents.
4. We favor an increase in unemployment compensation benefits with provision for dependent coverage.
5. We recommend that maximum duration of unemployment compensation be increased from 26 to 39 weeks, with extension based on demonstrated need and previous employment record.
6. We pledge to fight for the right of all employees in the State to organize and be recognized by their respective employers.
7. We urge a bill of rights for all public employees, protecting their rights to organize and secure recognition from the State and its political subdivisions.
8. We endorse enabling legislation to allow City and Town employees to get group health and accident insurance.
9. We pledge a Fair Employment Practices Law with stiff penalties for those discriminating in hiring on grounds of national origin, faith, race or age.

10. We propose legislation to outlaw importation of out-of-state strike breakers.
11. We recommend inclusion on the Public Utilities Commission of a Commissioner with a background in consumer-labor relations.

Medical Care for the Aged

(This plank of the Democratic Platform was adopted by a unanimous vote of the Convention Delegates.)

The Democratic Party of New Hampshire expressed its strong support of the Kennedy administration approach to the problem of medical care for the aged. In addition, we call attention to the failure of the present State Government to provide to the aged of New Hampshire, that care now available through the Kerr-Mills legislation.

Therefore:

1. We urge adoption of the Social Security approach to medical care for the aged for the following reasons:
 - a. It is the soundest approach to the mounting problem of providing payment for hospital services, skilled nursing home facilities and home health services.
 - b. It does not call for additional spending on the part of the Federal Government.
 - c. The individual wage earner contributes to the plan on a pay-as-you-earn basis.
 - d. The Senior Citizen's pride is not destroyed by a pauper's oath.
2. We urge that the State of New Hampshire act immediately to implement the provisions of the Kerr-Mills bill, which can provide medical assistance for the aged now and later for those who may not be covered by Social Security.

Natural Resources

The Democratic Party of New Hampshire recognizes the need to protect and turn to our benefit all the great natural assets of our State: mountains, waters, countryside and forests.

Therefore:

1. We urge whole-hearted state support of the Rural Area Development program, including such appropriations as may be needed for supplementary studies and inventories of our natural wealth, so that the people of New Hampshire may have full knowledge of their heritage and how it may be conserved.
2. We ask that state aid to local pollution control projects be increased to 30%, to match the Federal contribution, for a more equitable sharing of the costs of these worthwhile programs, and so that the problem of pollution in our lakes and streams may more speedily be remedied.

3. We repeat our recommendations that the State begin immediately to study and review the present status of access to all public waters, both fresh and salt, and that the State start a program of acquiring public access, or additional public access, wherever necessary, to make these waters available to the people of this State.
4. We urge the development of safe swimming areas at the numerous places on Lake Winnepesaukee and other lakes where State land adjoins large sections of shore.
5. We ask a vigorous program of enforcement of the present laws against highway littering: the introduction of legislation to enable the State, cities, and towns to control billboards on our highways; and the introduction of legislation to control the establishment of junk-yards on state highways.
6. We urge the State and the many summer camps in New Hampshire to cooperate on a program of standards and inspection to insure that the highest level of safety and hygiene be maintained at all times, and that the high national reputation that these camps deservedly enjoy be retained.
7. We ask that the State encourage and direct local recreation programs, particularly in our smaller towns, by some means such as a contribution or grant to the work in New Hampshire of the National Recreation Association.
8. We recommend that the State take greater initiative in improving the quality of our forests with the multiple objectives of greater wood product yield, improved hunting, fire safety, and the greater natural beauty of the State.
9. We ask that effective measures be taken to control the problem of slash in lumber operations.
10. We recommend that at least one full time county forester be provided for each of our counties.

Revenue

The Democratic Party of New Hampshire finds that the tax structure of the State of New Hampshire has become inefficient, inequitable and oppressive. The major burden of the many essential state and local services now falls on the regressive local property taxes, which bear most heavily on those least able to pay, and which discourages industrial development.

Therefore:

1. We reaffirm our unalterable opposition to a general sales tax.
2. We recommend appointment of a bi-partisan commission to study New Hampshire tax laws with reference to the real needs of the state and local governments, in order to lower and apportion fairly the taxes directly or indirectly paid by the citizens of the State.
3. We call for elimination of waste and inefficiency in present State expenditures, in order to make better use of the tax money presently available, and recommend competitive bidding wherever possible in order to make better use of the tax money presently available.
4. We urge a thorough study of the administration of the present tax laws, to discover unfair or inequitable methods of collection and exception which deprive the State of its due revenue.
5. We call for studies to determine the amount of revenue which could be saved through the following measures:
 - a. Establishment of a central purchasing agency for all municipalities and special districts in the State.
 - b. Ending State Government competition with private industry in the field of recreation.
6. We recommend a study of the Stock-in-Trade tax because it discriminates particularly against businesses with large inventories and slow turnover, and also, generally, against manufacturers whose very operations create economic health.
7. We believe that real property should be valued according to its current value.
8. We pledge abolition of the present regressive head tax as being both inequitable and unnecessary.
9. We urge repeal of the taxes on poultry and livestock, which, while they produce relatively little revenue, work a real hardship on many farmers.

Tariff and Trade

The Democratic Party of New Hampshire recognizes that trade is as much a weapon in the Cold War as are troops, bombs and propaganda. The United States must now permit its industries to participate fully in the expanding overseas market.

Therefore:

1. We support the liberalization of National trade and tariff policies to allow the President of the United States a strong, realistic, flexible bargaining position with other nations.
2. We urge that provisions be included to anticipate the effect of a tariff change on domestic industries, such as New Hampshire leather product and textile industries, and that ways be provided to help affected industries and labor adjust to new competitive conditions.

In addition, we note that, despite the vitality of the leading industries in New Hampshire, our present rate of industrial growth cannot hope to provide the breadth of opportunity necessary for the State's expanding work force.

Therefore:

3. We propose and promise that the State Government undertake a more vigorous and creative role in expanding and diversifying the economy of the State.
4. We further propose that the State Government explore opportunities for New Hampshire industry in foreign markets, assisting interested firms in every way possible.

Transportation

The Democratic Party of New Hampshire recognizes that the public transportation system of our State is its economic artery. We believe that planning for future transportation needs, in addition to caring for those of the present, is crucial for the State's industrial and tourism development.

Therefore:

1. We urge early completion of the inter-state highway system and construction of a major East-West highway across the State.
2. We recommend further modernization, expansion and improved maintenance of our entire road system with specific reference to the North and West of our State which have been sorely neglected.
3. We favor serious efforts to develop Portsmouth Harbor and other facilities along the seacoast.
4. We favor a general easing of restrictions on railroads serving New Hampshire, with a concerted effort by all State and Federal agencies to improve the passenger and freight facilities in New Hampshire, including assistance in tax relief and rate fixing if necessary.
5. We favor a combined State and Federal program aiding private enterprise to establish an adequate system of airports, navigational aids and flight services.

This Platform of the Democratic Party of New Hampshire was adopted at the 1962 Democratic State Convention in Manchester, New Hampshire on September 21, 1962.

RECOUNTS AFTER THE GENERAL ELECTION

In this chapter may be found a brief description of the recounts of ballots held by the Secretary of State after the General Election of November 6, 1962.

In the first column are the figures as officially returned to the Secretary of State following the election. The second column contains the recount figures.

In all, twelve recounts were conducted; the recount of Councilor District No. 4 was terminated at the request of John D. Wilcox after thirty-seven out of the sixty-five voting precincts were counted and there was no appreciable change in the count.

There were nine recounts of Representatives and there were no changes of candidates-elect.

Question B for the Town of Newton resulted in a change, the recount giving the "Yes" question 253 votes.

Berlin ward 3 Supervisor recount resulted in a change, the recount giving John D. Morton, Sr. 917 votes, the official figures were 891.
